

THE GUARDIANS OF ELARIA

THE COMPENDIUM

Bestiary, Treasures, Custom Content & Character Sheets

A running reference for The Guardians of Elaria. Updated as the chronicle grows.

Every wonder of the road, gathered in one book.

One volume for everything the road has taught the Guardians: every creature they have faced, freed, or befriended; every treasure and relic they carry; the house rules, homebrew paths, and mysteries of this table; and the heroes' own character sheets, ready for the table. Four parts, one book, growing with the chronicle.

Part I: The Bestiary

Here is every creature the Guardians have faced, freed, or befriended, gathered with its lore and its complete statistics. When a planar creature falls, it leaves no body: a gleaming mote of its home plane rises, hangs a moment, and fades (and the Essence Sphere tugs toward it). Read on, brave heroes, and know your monsters.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Wakened

The scholars of Ravenstone keep trying to sort the wondrous creatures of the Darkening into families, and the creatures keep declining. A duck with a leek. A fish that swims through air. A plant that chose three children. The only taxonomy that has ever held is the Circle's: some things wake up when the worlds lean close, and what they become depends entirely on who finds them first.

Companions & Friends

Not every creature in this book is an enemy. Some walk the road beside the Guardians.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ Why the Guardians

The Warden's safeguards do not choose the strong. Every tale of the scattered gifts agrees on this one point: they choose the kind, because kindness is the only power Maldrith has never once predicted correctly. The friends who walk beside the Guardians were won the same way, one small mercy at a time.

Ghostbloom is the party's dearest companion, chosen in Session 3 as Floraburst, changed aboard the sinking Dutchman and again in Wraithpine's ghost-light. Her petals are glass-pale now and chime like frost; she floats, speaks in soft telepathy, and glows brighter near planar wounds. Some say she is Elaria's own little voice.

GHOSTBLOOM, SPECTRAL BLOSSOM

Tiny fey (Ghost/Grass), chaotic good ◆ the party's companion

AC 15 (natural armor) HP 52 (8d4 + 32) Speed 30 ft., fly 30 ft. (hover)

STR 8 DEX 18 CON 18 INT 12 WIS 14 CHA 16

Saves Dex +7, Con +7, Wis +5 Skills Perception +5, Stealth +7

Vulnerable fire, cold (mind the friendly fire)

Resist necrotic; bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical attacks

Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 15

Languages Sylvan, telepathy 30 ft. (to her keeper)

Traits

Fey Step (1/Short Rest). As a bonus action, teleport up to 20 ft. to an unoccupied space she can see. Her next attack this turn has advantage.

Spectral Form. She can move through creatures and objects as difficult terrain. If she ends her turn inside an object, she is shunted to the nearest space and takes 5 force damage.

Guardian's Light (3/Short Rest). Reaction, 30 ft. When an ally she can see takes damage, that ally regains 1d8 + 3 hit points and immediately ends the charmed or frightened condition on itself.

Actions

Multiattack. She makes two Spectral Lash attacks.

Spectral Lash. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 9 (1d8 + 5) slashing plus 3 (1d6) necrotic, and the target must succeed on a DC 15 Wisdom save or be frightened until the end of its next turn.

Ghostly Wail (1/Long Rest). A haunting cry in a 15-ft. cone. Each creature there makes a DC 15 Wisdom save, taking 14 (4d6) necrotic and frightened until the end of its next turn on a fail, or half damage and no fear on a success.

The rift arc asks more of her than the road ever did. This is Ghostbloom as she stands at the party's side from the Earth Rift onward: the same creature, grown into the work. Her older card above is kept for the Sessions 1 to 7 chronicle.

GHOSTBLOOM, SPECTRAL BLOSSOM (LEVEL 7)

Tiny fey (Ghost/Grass), chaotic good ◆ the party's companion, rift arc

AC 16 (natural armor) HP 62 (8d4 + 42) Speed 30 ft., fly 30 ft. (hover)

STR 8 DEX 18 CON 18 INT 12 WIS 14 CHA 16

Saves Dex +8, Con +8, Wis +6 Skills Perception +6, Stealth +8

Vulnerable fire, cold (mind the friendly fire)

Resist necrotic; bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical attacks

Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 16

Languages Sylvan, telepathy 30 ft. (to her keeper)

Traits

Fey Step (1/Short Rest). As a bonus action, teleport up to 20 ft. to an unoccupied space she can see. Her next attack this turn has advantage.

Spectral Form. She can move through creatures and objects as difficult terrain. If she ends her turn inside an object, she is shunted to the nearest space and takes 5 force damage.

Guardian's Light (3/Short Rest). Reaction, 30 ft. When an ally she can see takes damage, that ally regains 12 (2d8 + 3) hit points and immediately ends the charmed or frightened condition on itself.

Actions

Multiattack. She makes two Spectral Lash attacks.

Spectral Lash. Melee Weapon Attack: +8 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (1d8 + 6) slashing plus 3 (1d6) necrotic, and the target must succeed on a DC 16 Wisdom save or be frightened until the end of its next turn.

Ghostly Wail (1/Long Rest). A haunting cry in a 15-ft. cone. Each creature there makes a DC 16 Wisdom save, taking 17 (5d6) necrotic and frightened until the end of its next turn on a fail, or half damage and no fear on a success.

The Companion Swap (from Session 8 on)

The Essence Sphere is the roster. One companion walks in the world at a time; everybody else rides inside the Sphere, safe and awake and perfectly fine. Swapping is Lilly's Action: she calls the name, the one outside steps into the light, and the one she called steps out. "Sandshrew, I choose you!" Nobody ever dies in there: a companion knocked to 0 hit points faints and the Sphere recalls it on the spot, not lost, not hurt for keeps, not gone. Choose before you go, not in the middle: picking wrong for a plane is a real mistake and an entirely survivable one. The roster grows by one per rift.

The Underroot's own answer to a charge. Sandshrew plants itself between the party and whatever is coming, dares the whole pack to come through him, and makes the ground they would have to cross buck and split beneath them.

SANDSHREW

Medium beast (Ground), unaligned ♦ Earth-rift companion

AC 17 (natural armor) HP 78 (12d8 + 24) Speed 30 ft., burrow 40 ft.

STR 18 DEX 14 CON 15 INT 6 WIS 12 CHA 10

Saves Str +7, Con +5 Skills Athletics +7, Perception +4

Vulnerable cold

Resist bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical attacks

Senses darkvision 60 ft., tremorsense 30 ft., passive Perception 14

Languages understands its handler, speaks none

Traits

Sand Veil. Dust curls constantly from its plates. Attack rolls against Sandshrew made from more than 15 feet away have Disadvantage.

Curl Up. Reaction. When Sandshrew is hit by an attack, it tucks behind its plates. Reduce that attack's damage by 10.

Actions

Multiattack. It makes two Claw attacks.

Claw. Melee Weapon Attack: +8 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (1d10 + 5) slashing damage.

Challenge. Bonus Action, 30 ft., one enemy that can see it. Sandshrew rears up with a rattling hiss and dares that one to try it. Until the start of Sandshrew's next turn, the target has Disadvantage on attack rolls against any target other than Sandshrew.

Earthquake. Sandshrew slams both forefeet down and the ground bucks and splits in a 20-foot Cube centered on itself. Each creature of Sandshrew's choice in that area makes a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw, taking 10 (3d6) Bludgeoning damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one. The broken ground is Difficult Terrain until the start of Sandshrew's next turn.

The Undersea's gift, promised for the Water rift: a very small, very proud field medic. Piplup holds the backline, mends whoever is bleeding, shields whoever is next, and slows whatever comes wading in after them.

PIPLUP

Small beast (Water), unaligned ♦ Water-rift companion (joins in Session 9)

AC 13 HP 45 (10d6 + 10) Speed 25 ft., swim 50 ft.

STR 6 DEX 16 CON 12 INT 10 WIS 16 CHA 14

Saves Dex +6, Wis +6 Skills Medicine +6, Performance +5

Resist cold

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Languages understands its handler; says only his own name, with total clarity

Traits

Proud Heart. Piplup has Advantage on saving throws against being Frightened, and nothing can make him retreat while a friend is down.

Slipstream. While swimming, Piplup doesn't provoke Opportunity Attacks.

Actions

Multiattack. Piplup makes two Ice Beam attacks.

Ice Beam. Ranged Attack: +6 to hit, range 60/120 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (2d6 + 3) Cold damage, and the target's Speed drops by 20 feet until the end of its next turn (the slow doesn't stack).

Heal Bubble (Bonus Action, 3/Short Rest). A shimmering bubble drifts to one creature Piplup can see within 30 feet and pops into cool silver mist: it regains 14 (2d8 + 5) hit points and is cured of the Poisoned condition.

Sea Mist (1/Day). Piplup breathes out a rolling bank of cool silver fog: a 20-foot-radius Sphere centered on a point he can see within 60 feet, Heavily Obscured for 1 minute or until a strong wind clears it. Piplup and his friends always know where each other are inside it; enemies do not.

Reactions

Water Jet. Reaction. When a creature Piplup can see within 30 feet attacks one of his allies, a needle of high-pressure water snaps out: the attacker takes 7 (2d6) Bludgeoning damage and the triggering attack is made with Disadvantage.

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Kept Company

The sky-readers keep a gentler list beside their catalogue of frights: the wonders that chose to stay. A creature woken by the Darkening can turn wild or turn kind, and the Circle has never found a rule for which, only a pattern, that the ones met with a shared meal and a true name tend to follow the heroes home. A companion, the old teaching runs, is a mote that decided to belong to someone. They are counted among the Guardians' truest treasures, and guarded twice as fiercely for having been freely given.

Floraburst, as she was before the change: a leafy sprout-backed creature who loved sunlight and berries. This is the form the party first knew and loved in Session 3.

FLORABURST

Small fey, neutral good ♦ the companion as she was chosen

AC 14 (natural armor) HP 45 (6d6 + 18) Speed 30 ft.

STR 14 DEX 12 CON 16 INT 10 WIS 14 CHA 10

Skills Nature +4, Survival +4 Resist poison

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 12

Languages understands Sylvan and Common but cannot speak

Traits

Plant Camouflage. Advantage on Stealth checks to hide in heavy foliage.

Photosynthesis. During a short or long rest in sunlight, Floraburst recovers 10 extra hit points.

Actions

Razor Leaf. Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (2d8 + 2) slashing.

Vine Lash. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 8 (1d10 + 2) bludgeoning, and the target must succeed on a DC 13 Strength save or be restrained until the end of its next turn.

Floraberry (3/Day). Floraburst produces 1d4 + 1 magical berries. A creature can use a Bonus Action to eat one and restore 3 hit points (house rule 4, as Goodberry).

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ Motes

A mote is a crumb of another world, and the world it lands in treats it the way a pond treats a dropped lantern: strange light, strange ripples, and every fish in the pond suddenly having opinions. The wondrous creatures of the chronicle, the talking, glowing, impossible ones, are what happens when the ripples reach something alive.

In Session 3, Professor Aelwyn offered the party three little wards; they chose Floraburst. The two who stayed behind, Aqualump and Emberpaws, are catalogued here too, for they are part of the story.

AQUALUMP

Small elemental, neutral good ♦ stayed with Aelwyn

AC 16 (natural armor, Shell Defense) HP 54 (7d6 + 21)
Speed 25 ft., swim 30 ft.
STR 15 DEX 14 CON 17 INT 10 WIS 13 CHA 11
Skills Athletics +4, Perception +3 Resist cold
Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13
Languages understands Aquan and Common but cannot speak

Traits

Shell Defense. As a bonus action, Aqualump withdraws into its shell, gaining +4 AC until the start of its next turn; while in its shell its speed is 0.

Water Veil. Aqualump cannot be set on fire and has advantage on saves against being ignited or burned.

Actions

Water Bolt. Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (2d8 + 2) bludgeoning, and the target must succeed on a DC 14 Strength save or be knocked prone.

Surf (Recharge 5-6). A 15-ft. cone of water. Each creature there makes a DC 14 Dexterity save, taking 14 (4d6) cold on a fail (half on a success); those who fail are knocked prone.

Frost Shell. Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, range 20 ft., one target. Hit: 8 (1d10 + 2) cold, and the target's speed is reduced by 10 ft. until the end of its next turn.

EMBERPAWS

Small elemental, chaotic good ♦ stayed with Aelwyn

AC 15 (natural armor) HP 42 (6d6 + 15)
Speed 30 ft.
STR 13 DEX 16 CON 15 INT 10 WIS 12 CHA 12
Skills Acrobatics +5, Perception +3 Imm. fire
Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13
Languages understands Ignan and Common but cannot speak

Traits

Fiery Spirit. When reduced to 0 hit points, Emberpaws bursts into flame. Each creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 13 Dexterity save, taking 7 (2d6) fire on a fail (half on a success).

Heatwave (3/Day). As a bonus action, Emberpaws radiates heat for 1 minute; any creature that hits it with a melee attack takes 4 (1d8) fire.

Actions

Ember. Ranged Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, range 30 ft., one target. Hit: 9 (2d6 + 2) fire.

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 8 (1d8 + 3) piercing.

Tail Flame Whip. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 10 ft., one target. Hit: 10 (2d6 + 3) fire, and the target must succeed on a DC 13 Dexterity save or be ignited, taking 2 (1d4) fire at the start of each of its turns until the flames are put out.

Lickgloom was the party's very first friend, met on their first night by a pond in the Forest of Whispers: round-bodied, endlessly curious, with a tongue longer than it is tall and a telepathic voice of pure feeling ('Food? Friend?'). It chose to stay among Professor Aelwyn's creatures at Ravenstone. Visits are owed.

LICKGLOOM

Small fey (Feywild), neutral ♦ CR 1 (200 XP) ♦ the first friend

AC 13 (natural armor) HP 27 (5d6 + 10) Speed 30 ft.

STR 14 DEX 12 CON 14 INT 6 WIS 10 CHA 8

Saves Dex +3 Skills Perception +2, Stealth +4

Resist acid, poison

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 12

Languages understands Common but cannot speak; telepathic impressions

Challenge 1 (200 XP)

Traits

Helpful Tongue. Traveling with the party, Lickgloom can fetch small objects with its 10 foot tongue, and once per scene its tasting tongue grants one hero advantage on a Wisdom (Perception) or Intelligence (Investigation) check.

Actions

Tongue Whip. Melee Attack: +4 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 1d6 + 2 bludgeoning, and the target must succeed on a DC 12 Strength saving throw or be grappled (escape DC 12).

Sticky Lick (Recharge 5-6). One creature within 10 ft. must succeed on a DC 13 Dexterity saving throw or lose one small item (a weapon, potion, or trinket), which Lickgloom pulls to itself.

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Forest of Whispers

The old grove roads are kept by creatures rather than kingdoms, and the etiquette that holds there is the same one the Long Peace taught: walk through singing, take nothing green, and leave a bite of supper at the trailhead. The kind ones answer kindness, the sky-readers say, which is why the first friend a traveler makes in the Forest of Whispers is so often the truest.

Pikachu, the Spark Fox. An old friend of the Glimmergear family, bodiless since before the chronicle began, sleeping inside the Essence Sphere. His golden projection first appeared in Gearhaven: two long ears, a lightning-bolt tail, and a warning carried through Ursa's Mark. He has no statistics yet; he is more a key than a creature, and his full return is still to come.

Session 1: The Forest of Whispers

The first creatures the Guardians ever faced, all touched by the thinning boundary between the planes. Each left behind a fading mote, the party's very first clue.

A duck grown huge and wind-wrapped, roosting in an old rune-carved stone circle; its furious quacks arrive straight in the mind.

DUCKLEAF

Small beast (Elemental Air), neutral ♦ CR 4 (1,100 XP) ♦ guardian of the stone circle

AC 15 (natural armor) HP 52 (8d8 + 16) Speed 30 ft., fly 30 ft.

STR 14 DEX 16 CON 14 INT 10 WIS 12 CHA 10

Saves Dex +5, Wis +3 Skills Acrobatics +5, Perception +3

Resist slashing, bludgeoning (wind-shielded)

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Languages telepathy 30 ft. (in quacks)

Challenge 4 (1,100 XP)

Traits

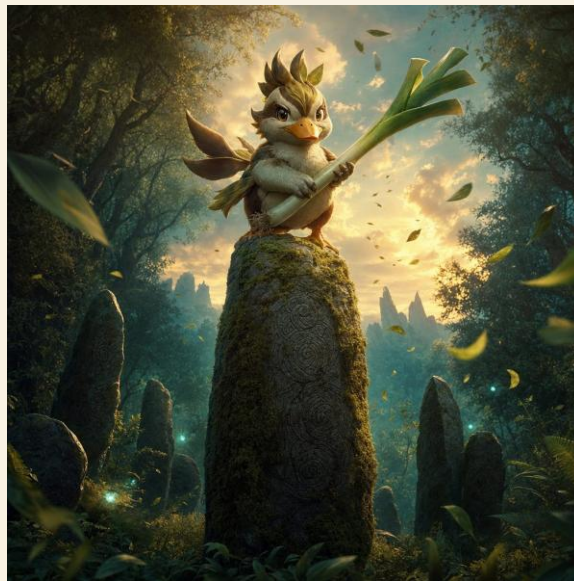

Winged Leap. Duckleaf can leap 30 ft. in any direction without provoking opportunity attacks. Disrupting a stone of the rune-circle ends this ability for the rest of the battle.

Actions

Leek Strike. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 2d8 + 4 slashing.

Aerial Slash. Ranged Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, range 20/60 ft., one target. Hit: 3d6 + 3 slashing, a blade of wind.

Quack of Fury (Recharge 5-6). A thunderous telepathic quack. Each creature within 15 ft. makes a DC 14 Wisdom save or is frightened for 1 minute (repeat save at end of each turn).

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Rings and Their Keepers

Where a plane leans closest to the world, the old builders raised a ring of stones and asked one creature to keep it: a duck grown huge and wind-wrapped, a fish that swims the open air, a hound woven of mist that hunts the lantern-edge. The keepers were never meant to be fierce, the sky-readers say, only faithful, and a keeper turns dangerous only when the wall it guards begins to fail. Meet one swinging, the Circle teaches, and the kinder question is not how to beat it but what it is so frightened of losing.

A fish that swims through open air above its grove pool, trailing glowing water and speaking in pictures pressed gently into the mind.

COGNIFIN

Small beast (Elemental Water), neutral ◆ CR 3 (700 XP) ◆ the grove's test

AC 14 (natural armor) HP 45 (6d8 + 18) Speed 0 ft., fly 30 ft. (hover)

STR 10 DEX 14 CON 16 INT 10 WIS 14 CHA 12

Saves Dex +4, Wis +4 Skills Perception +4, Arcana +2

Resist cold, psychic

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 14

Languages telepathy 60 ft. (images and feelings)

Challenge 3 (700 XP)

Actions

Headache Blast. Ranged Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft., one target. Hit: 2d6 + 2 psychic.

Water Pulse. Ranged Spell Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft., one target. Hit: 2d6 + 2 bludgeoning, and the target must make a DC 12 Strength save or be knocked prone.

Confusion Pulse (Recharge 5-6). A wave of psychic energy in a 15-ft. radius. Each creature there makes a DC 13 Wisdom save or is confused (as the confusion spell) for 1 minute (repeat save at end of each turn).

Reactions

Psychic Shield. When hit by an attack, Cognifin gains +2 AC until the start of its next turn.

Legendary Actions

Whirlpool. Cognifin makes a 5-ft.-radius whirlpool; creatures there make a DC 12 Strength save or be pulled 10 ft. to its center and restrained until the end of their next turn.

Tidal Wave. A 10-ft. line of water. Creatures in its path make a DC 12 Dexterity save or take 2d4 bludgeoning and are pushed back 5 ft.

A shape of fog and hunger that hunts at the edge of lantern-light, more shadow than wolf.

MIST STALKER

Medium fey (Feywild), unaligned ◆ CR 2 (450 XP) ◆ they hunt in pairs

AC 13 HP 39 (6d8 + 12) Speed 40 ft.

STR 14 DEX 16 CON 14 INT 6 WIS 12 CHA 8

Skills Perception +3, Stealth +5

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Challenge 2 (450 XP)

Traits

Fog Cloak (Bonus Action). The stalker wraps itself in mist, becoming heavily obscured until the start of its next turn.

Actions

Multiattack. The mist stalker makes one bite attack and one claw attack.

Bite. Melee Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 1d8 + 3 piercing.

Claw. Melee Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 2d4 + 3 slashing.

Howl of the Mist (Recharge 5-6). A howl rolls through the fog from every direction at once. Each enemy within 30 ft. must succeed on a DC 13 Wisdom saving throw or be frightened until the end of the stalker's next turn.

Session 2: The Road to Ravenstone

On the road to Oakshade and Ravenstone the party met slick water-elementals, an old goblin grudge come calling, and a serpent of living stone.

Slick little elementals of the wayside ponds, harmless-looking right up until the mud starts flying.

MUDSKIP

Small elemental (Plane of Water), neutral ◆ CR 1/2 (100 XP) ◆ mischief in numbers

AC 13 (natural armor) HP 22 (4d6 + 8) Speed 20 ft., swim 30 ft.

STR 12 DEX 14 CON 14 INT 6 WIS 12 CHA 8

Skills Stealth +4, Perception +3

Vulnerable lightning Resist fire

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Languages understands Aquan but can't speak

Challenge 1/2 (100 XP)

Traits

Amphibious. The Mudskip can breathe air and water.

Mud Dweller. It ignores difficult terrain made of mud or shallow water.

Slippery. Advantage on checks and saves to escape a grapple.

Actions

Multiattack. One Mud Spit and one Tail Slap.

Mud Spit. Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft. Hit: 5 (1d6 + 2) bludgeoning, and on a failed DC 12 Dexterity save the target's speed drops by 10 ft. until end of its next turn.

Tail Slap. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 6 (1d8 + 2) bludgeoning.

Mud Splash (Recharge 5-6). A 15-ft. cone of mud. DC 12 Dexterity save; 9 (2d6 + 2) bludgeoning and blinded until end of next turn on a fail, half and no blind on a success.

The Grimfang war band. A rival goblin clan carrying an old grudge against Stabby's Bloodfang: two goblin archers, a worg, a club-swinging orc, a hobgoblin sniper, and a scar-faced Goblin Boss who taunted Stabby and regretted it. Driven off, not destroyed; grudges keep. Their statistics are the standard Monster Manual entries.

GOBLIN BOSS (THE GRIMFANG LEADER)

Small humanoid (goblinoid), neutral evil ◆ CR 1 (200 XP) ◆ leads the war band

AC 17 (chain shirt, shield) HP 21 (6d6) Speed 30 ft.

STR 10 DEX 14 CON 10 INT 10 WIS 8 CHA 10

Skills Stealth +6

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 9

Languages Common, Goblin

Challenge 1 (200 XP)

Traits

Nimble Escape. The boss can Disengage or Hide as a bonus action on each of its turns.

Actions

Multiattack. Two attacks with its scimitar (the second only if the first hits).

Scimitar. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 5 (1d6 + 2) slashing.

Javelin. Melee or Ranged Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft. or range 30/120 ft. Hit: 5 (1d6 + 2) piercing.

Reactions

Redirect Attack. When a creature the boss can see targets it with an attack, it swaps places with a goblin ally within 5 ft.; that ally becomes the target instead.

The band also fielded standard Goblins (AC 15, HP 7), a Worg (AC 13, HP 26), an Orc (AC 13, HP 15), and a Hobgoblin sniper (AC 18, HP 11).

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Thorn Clans

Goblins tell it plainly: when the world was woven, some threads stuck out, quick and bright and impossible to trim flat. Those threads became goblins. The briar-maze of Bloodthorn Hollow grew up around the clans, they say, because even the thorns wanted to keep them, and a grudge between two clans can outlast the briar itself.

The serpent of living stone itself: patient as a mountain, and about as easy to push over.

TERRANOX

Large elemental (Plane of Earth), unaligned ♦ CR 4 (1,100 XP) ♦ the boss of Session 2

AC 16 (natural armor) HP 95 (10d10 + 40) Speed 30 ft., burrow 30 ft.

STR 20 DEX 10 CON 18 INT 5 WIS 11 CHA 6

Resist bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical, non-adamantine weapons

Imm. fire, poison ♦ (cond) exhaustion, paralyzed, petrified, poisoned, prone

Senses darkvision 60 ft., tremorsense 60 ft., passive Perception 10

Challenge 4 (1,100 XP)

Traits

Earth Glide. Terranox burrows through unworked earth and stone without disturbing it.

Siege Monster. Deals double damage to objects and structures.

Elemental Resilience. Advantage on saves against spells and magical effects.

Immutable Form. Immune to any effect that would alter its form.

Actions

Multiattack. One Bite and one Tail Slam.

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 10 ft., one target. Hit: 16 (2d10 + 5) piercing.

Tail Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 5) bludgeoning, and the target must succeed on a DC 15 Strength save or be knocked prone.

Stone Coil (Recharge 5-6). One creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 15 Dexterity save or is grappled and restrained (escape DC 15), taking 9 (1d8 + 5) bludgeoning at the start of each of its turns.

Earthquake Stomp (Recharge 6). A tremor in a 20-ft. radius; each creature on the ground makes a DC 15 Dexterity save, taking 14 (4d6) bludgeoning and knocked prone on a fail (half, no prone, on a success).

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Stone Rings

The standing stones scattered across the vales are older than every road. Each ring was raised where a plane leans close to the world, and each was given a guardian, feathered, finned, or worse, to keep the leaning from becoming a fall. When the Darkening thinned the walls, some of those old guardians woke confused and swinging.

Session 3: The Road South

South toward the sea, the party crossed shadowed thickets and glowing fungal groves, and learned that the planar wounds are teaching old monsters new tricks.

A hollow shape of darkness crowned in cold blue flame, hiding among perfect copies of itself.

SHADOWFLAME

Medium undead, chaotic evil ♦ CR 4 (1,100 XP) ♦ fights alone

AC 14 (natural armor) HP 58 (9d8 + 18) Speed 0 ft., fly 40 ft. (hover)

STR 8 DEX 18 CON 14 INT 12 WIS 15 CHA 18

Skills Stealth +8, Intimidation +6

Resist acid, fire, lightning, necrotic; bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical weapons

Imm. poison, psychic ♦ (cond) charmed, frightened, grappled, paralyzed, poisoned, prone, restrained

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 12

Languages understands Common, Sylvan, and Abyssal (does not speak)

Challenge 4 (1,100 XP)

Traits

Illusions of Fear. At the start of combat, the Shadowflame conjures three identical illusions (AC 14). A creature attacking one must succeed on a DC 18 Arcana or Perception check to know it is false; on a failure the attack misses and the illusion remains.

Actions

Shadow Claw. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 4) necrotic, and the target must succeed on a DC 14 Wisdom save or be frightened until end of next turn.

Terror Wave (Recharge 5-6). A 15-ft. cone of dark energy. Each creature makes a DC 14 Wisdom save, taking 16 (3d10) necrotic and frightened for 1 minute on a fail (repeat save at end of each turn).

Reactions

Shadowmeld. When hit, the Shadowflame teleports up to 20 ft. to an unoccupied space it can see, becoming lightly obscured until the start of its next turn.

Displacer Beasts (a pair). Six-legged, tentacled, and impossibly TALKING ('Fresh prey... too easy.'): the planar distortion had given old monsters new voices. Their shimmering forms impose disadvantage on attacks against them until they take damage; their barbed tentacles strike at 10 ft. Their fall revealed rune-tears in the forest floor. (Statistics as the standard Displacer Beast, CR 3, AC 13, HP 85.)

A guardian of the glowing fungal groves, all soft lantern-light and stubborn spores.

SHROOMYTE

Small plant, neutral ♦ CR 2 (450 XP) ♦ they defend the grove in fours

AC 13 (natural armor) HP 27 (5d8 + 5) Speed 20 ft.

Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Languages understands Sylvan but can't speak

Challenge 2 (450 XP)

Traits

Bioluminescent Glow. The Shroomyte sheds dim light in a 10-ft. radius, which it can suppress or rekindle as a bonus action.

Fungal Resilience. Advantage on saves against being charmed, frightened, or stunned.

Actions

Multiattack. One Spore Blast and one Mycelium Tendrils.

Spore Blast. Ranged Spell Attack: +4 to hit, range 30 ft. Hit: 9 (2d6 + 2) poison, and the target must succeed on a DC 13 Constitution save or be poisoned until end of its next turn.

Mycelium Tendrils. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 7 (2d4 + 2) bludgeoning, and a DC 13 Strength save or restrained until end of its next turn.

Reactions

Fungal Retribution. When a creature within 5 ft. hits it in melee, the Shroomyte bursts spores; the attacker makes a DC 13 Constitution save or takes 5 (2d4) poison.

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Glowing Groves

South of the vale the forest thins and the light begins to come up out of the ground instead of down through the leaves. Whole hillsides of luminous fungus keep a slow green daylight there, and the Shroomytes tend it the way shepherds tend a flock, kindling and hooding their own glow to signal one another across the dark. Travelers of the Long Peace learned the grove's single rule quickly: the light is not yours to carry off, only to walk by, and a grove left unspoiled will light you the whole way to the coast. Trample it, the old warning ends, and the spores remember longer than you will.

Session 4: The Longest Night of Havenmoor

A whole winter court had risen with the Krampusshade. These are the dangers that stalked the frozen roads of Havenmoor, and the fiend that ruled them.

The fiend of the longest night itself: horned, chain-draped, and smiling, striding the snows with a sack of cursed gifts over one shoulder.

THE KRAMPUSSHADE

Large fiend, chaotic evil ◆ CR 5 (1,800 XP) ◆ the boss of Session 4

Challenge 5 (1,800 XP)

Actions

Multiattack. One Claw and one Chains of Despair.

Claw. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 10 ft., one target. Hit: 12 (2d6 + 4) slashing plus 5 (1d10) cold.

Chains of Despair. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 15 ft., one target. Hit: 11 (2d6 + 4) bludgeoning, and a DC 14 Strength save or restrained until end of its next turn.

Gift of Despair (Recharge 5-6). It hurls a cursed gift box at a target within 30 ft.; DC 14 Wisdom save or frightened for 1 minute (repeat save at end of each turn).

Reactions

Icy Retaliation. When hit by a melee attack, the attacker makes a DC 14 Constitution save or takes 7 (2d6) cold and has its speed reduced by 10 ft. until end of its next turn.

Legendary Actions

Shadow Step. The Krampusshade teleports up to 20 ft. to an unoccupied space in dim light or darkness. (Rung together, the eight Winter Bells strip away its power.)

A red-eyed sliver of shadow that giggles in the dark between the lantern posts.

Sneak-thieves of the winter court: shadowy imps with glowing red eyes and jagged claws, leaping from cover to steal whatever shone brightest in a hero's pack.

And the gift-box mimics were the season's cruelest joke: presents that bit back, and stuck fast to any hand that reached for them.

Challenge 2 (450 XP)

Actions

Icy Shock. Melee Spell Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 9 (2d8) lightning plus 4 (1d6) cold.

Invisibility. The wisp turns invisible until it attacks.

Kinder meetings walked the same roads: a resting reindeer whose glowing nose blessed kind travelers, a friendly caribou that healed the weary, and Aurora Spirits, gentle messengers of Elaria who traded a prophecy for a moment's respect. None of these gentle ones has statistics; they were never for fighting.

Not villains so much as frozen, starving folk; a warm meal has ended more of these fights than any sword. The frost golems that rise beside them argue less.

SNOWBOUND BANDIT LEADER

Actions

Icy Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 7 (2d6 + 3) bludgeoning plus 3 (1d4) cold.

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ The Longest Night

The Circle marks one night a year when the dark leans hardest on the world, and teaches that it is not to be feared but outlasted. Kindle a light, share a warm meal, ring a true bell, and keep one another company until dawn, the old rule runs, for the longest night has never once failed to end, and the things that walk it are hungriest for the lonely.

Session 5: The Flying Dutchman

Aboard the ghost-ship of Davy Jones the party fought a drowned crew of smugglers and spirits, all of them (like the Captain) undone by cold and by the sea taking back its own.

The Captain himself: barnacle-armed, tentacle-bearded, master of the Dutchman and keeper of the souls that serve aboard her.

Arcane Pulse (Recharge 5-6). A 10-ft. cone; DC 13 Dexterity save, 4d6 force (half on a success).

Reactions

Engineered Reflexes. Halves the damage from one attack or harmful spell.

Session 6: The False Hydra of Wraithpine

The worst monster the Guardians ever faced, because no one knew it was there. Beneath the Old Theater of Wraithpine, its endless song made the whole village forget the people it took. Beeswax in the ears let the truth through.

The first glimpse of the horror: a single pale head and neck rising through the tavern trapdoor, singing all the while.

Each head is pale, blind-eyed, and always singing, even as it bites.

FALSE HYDRA: TAVERN HEAD

Large aberration (one head and neck), unaligned ♦ it has been in the taproom all along

AC 14 HP 70 (9d10 + 18) Speed 10 ft., climb 10 ft.

Resist psychic Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, prone
Senses blindsight 10 ft., tremorsense 30 ft., darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 14

Traits

Mind-Humming Aura. Creatures without beeswax that start their turn within 30 ft. make a DC 13 Wisdom save or have disadvantage on attack rolls that turn. Beeswax grants advantage on the save.

Segmented Neck. The head ignores forced movement and prone unless it chooses otherwise. When it takes 20+ damage in a turn, it recoils 5 ft. (no opportunity attacks) and can't take reactions until the start of its next turn.

Actions

Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 4) piercing, and the target is grappled (escape DC 14). While grappling it can't bite a different target.

Lurch & Drag. A grappled target is dragged 5 ft. toward the trapdoor and, on a failed DC 13 Wisdom save, loses a word or thought for a heartbeat.

Reactions

Recoil from Flame. When it takes fire damage, it has disadvantage on its next attack.

FALSE HYDRA HEAD (X4)

Large aberration (an extension of the body), unaligned ♦ four in the pit

AC 14 HP 45 (6d10 + 12) each Speed 30 ft. (platforms, tunnels), climb 20 ft.

Reel. A creature grappled by the head makes a DC 14 Strength save or is pulled 10 ft. toward the port and knocked prone.

Reactions

Snap. When a creature moves within 15 ft., the head makes one Bite against it.

Deeper still, in the drowned orchestra pit, waited the true body and its four heads, all singing as one. The moment the song stopped, every stolen name came flooding home.

FALSE HYDRA (ADULT): BODY

Huge aberration, unaligned ♦ the boss of Session 6

AC 15 HP 130 (12d12 + 48) Speed 10 ft., climb 10 ft.

STR 18 DEX 10 CON 18 INT 7 WIS 14 CHA 8

Saves Con +8, Wis +5

Resist psychic Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, prone

Senses tremorsense 60 ft., darkvision 60 ft., blindsight 10 ft., passive Perception 12

Traits

Song of Unremembering. While any head lives, creatures without earplugs that start their turn within 60 ft. make a DC 15 Wisdom save or have disadvantage on attacks and can't take reactions until their next turn. Beeswax grants advantage and no reaction-lock.

Many-Minds. For each head alive, the body has 1 Legendary Action (max 3 per round).

Vital Link. While at least one head lives, the body has resistance to all weapon damage; each head destroyed removes one instance of this protection.

Actions

Thrash. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 4) bludgeoning.

Regurgitate Remnants (Recharge 5-6). A 15-ft. cone of bone and cloth; DC 14 Dexterity save, 13 (3d8) necrotic and slowed (speed -10) until end of next turn. A shattered skull and ribbon clatter free.

Legendary Actions

Hum Surge. One creature within 60 ft. (no earplugs) makes a DC 15 Wisdom save or loses concentration and can move only 10 ft. on its next turn.

Bone Shift. Move the body 5 ft. and reshape a 10-ft. square within 20 ft. into (or out of) difficult terrain.

Coordinate Strike. One head makes a Snap.

♦ LORE OF ELARIA ♦ Where the Silence Pools

In the deepest drowned places, the flooded warrens and the sunken halls, silence gathers the way cold water gathers at the bottom of a well. Something learned long ago to live in that silence and to feed on the memory of itself, so that the ones it takes are not mourned but only, quietly, forgotten. The Circle's warning for such places is the oldest kind: count your companions by name, out loud, and if the count will not come right, do not go deeper. Sing instead, for the one thing the silence has never been able to swallow is a song freely shared.

Festival frights. Before the theater, the hydra's hungry song had stirred lesser echoes all over Wraithpine: animated Scarecrows and rustling Strawlings on Pumpkin Row, rats and rat swarms in Maera's cellar, and restless Zombies (and, if things went loud, Skeletons) at the graveyard rite.

ANIMATED SCARECROW

Medium construct, neutral ◆ CR 1 (200 XP) ◆ Pumpkin Row

AC 11 HP 36 (8d8) Speed 30 ft.
STR 16 DEX 12 CON 11 INT 10 WIS 10 CHA 10
Vulnerable fire
Resist nonmagical B/P/S
Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, paralyzed, poisoned
Senses darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 10
Languages understands its creator's languages but can't speak
Challenge 1 (200 XP)

Traits

Terrifying Glare. One creature within 30 ft. must succeed on a DC 11 Wisdom save or be frightened for 1 minute (repeat save at end of each turn).

Heart-Gourd. A coin-sized gourd charm is sewn under its ribs; snipping it (an action within 5 ft., no roll) makes the scarecrow fall limp.

Actions

Claw. Melee Weapon Attack: two claws, +5 to hit, reach 5 ft.
Hit: 6 (2d4 + 1) slashing.

STRAWLING

Medium plant, neutral ◆ CR 1/4 (50 XP) ◆ more startling than deadly

AC 12 HP 11 (2d8 + 2) Speed 30 ft.
STR 12 DEX 12 CON 12 INT 4 WIS 10 CHA 3
Senses passive Perception 10
Challenge 1/4 (50 XP)

Actions

Needles. Melee or Ranged Weapon Attack: a bristle of straw-needles; easily bowled over by a hay cart or a kicked pumpkin stack.

The cellar vermin were ordinary Rats (AC 12, HP 7, CR 1/8) and a Swarm of Rats (AC 10, HP 24, CR 1/4). The graveyard undead were standard Zombies (AC 8, HP 22, CR 1/4; Undead Fortitude) and, only if the rite went loud, Skeletons (AC 13, HP 13, CR 1/4).

Session 7: Gearhaven, the Clockwork City

In the clockwork city, the enemy was no monster at all but corruption bleeding up through the cracks, reaching INTO the machines the people loved. Note the rotation: the lightning eaters and the fire eaters trade off. Freed, not killed: these were innocents.

Cogtooth Market's little brass helpers gone haywire, sparks snapping from every joint; and a dockside lifter the size of a shed, swinging its forklift arms like siege weapons.

ROGUE SERVITOR

Small construct, unaligned ♦ CR 2 ♦ freed, not killed

AC 15 HP 39 (6d6 + 18) Speed 30 ft.

Resist poison; nonmagical B/P/S
Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, poisoned, exhaustion
Senses darkvision 60 ft.
Challenge 2

Traits

Overclocked Death-Spark. At 0 HP, each creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 13 Dexterity save or takes 7 (2d6) lightning.

Shutdown Switch. An action within 5 ft. plus a DC 14 Arcana or Sleight of Hand check shuts it down instantly, no kill needed.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Flailing Slams.

Flailing Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 8 (1d10 + 3) bludgeoning.

Spark Lash (Recharge 5-6). Ranged Attack: +5 to hit, range 30 ft. Hit: 10 (3d6) lightning; the target's speed is halved until end of its next turn.

CARGO HAULER

Large construct, unaligned ♦ CR 3 ♦ the dockside lifter

AC 16 HP 76 (8d10 + 32) Speed 30 ft.
STR 19 DEX 8 CON 18 INT 3 WIS 8 CHA 5
Vulnerable lightning (overloaded core; telegraph the crackling blue!)

Resist nonmagical B/P/S

Imm. (cond) charmed, exhaustion, frightened, paralyzed, petrified, poisoned

Challenge 3

Traits

Out-of-Reach Switch. Its shutdown lever is 15 ft. up on its back; reaching it (climb DC 13 or flight) plus an action and a DC 15 Arcana or Sleight of Hand check disables it.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Forklift Slams, or one Slam and one Hurl Crate.

Forklift Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 13 (2d8 + 4) bludgeoning, and a DC 14 Strength save or knocked prone.

Hurl Crate. Ranged Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, range 60 ft. Hit: 14 (3d6 + 4) bludgeoning.

Grab & Crush (Recharge 5-6). One creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 14 Dexterity save or is grappled (escape DC 14), taking 10 (3d6) at the start of each of its turns until it escapes.

Spark-yellow skitterers of the Underworks, flickering in and out of the Real; and the nest-queen of the swarm, spinning webs of living lightning.

VOLTCRAWLER

Small aberration (planar intruder), unaligned ♦ the swarm

AC 15 HP 22 (5d6 + 5) Speed 30 ft., climb 30 ft.
STR 7 DEX 17 CON 13 INT 5 WIS 10 CHA 6
Resist lightning
Senses darkvision 60 ft.

Traits

Phase-Blink. At the start of its turn, roll a d6: on a 1-2 it goes Unreal, resisting all damage except force and radiant, and attacks against it have disadvantage; it can't be webbed or grappled and must become Real to attack. (Force and radiant are the counter.)

Static Cling. The first time it hits a creature each turn, that target's lightning resistance is ignored and its allies have advantage on their next attack against it.

Actions

Spark Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 1d6 + 3 piercing plus 1d6 lightning.

Arc (Recharge 5-6). A 15-ft. line; DC 13 Dexterity save, 2d8 lightning (half on a success). Two or more Voltcrawlers within 15 ft. can chain into one 3d8 line.

VOLTCRAWLER BROODMOTHER

Medium aberration (planar intruder), unaligned ♦ the nest-queen

AC 16 HP 95 (10d8 + 50) Speed 40 ft., climb 40 ft.
STR 14 DEX 18 CON 20 INT 6 WIS 12 CHA 8
Saves Dex +7, Con +8
Resist lightning; nonmagical B/P/S
Senses darkvision 60 ft.

Traits

Phase-Blink (greater). She chooses to go Unreal as a free action once per round (no roll).

Crackling Web. At the start of her turn, one creature she sees within 30 ft. makes a DC 15 Dexterity save or is restrained by planar silk (action plus DC 15 Strength to break; web AC 12, 15 HP, immune lightning, VULNERABLE fire and cold).

Actions

Multiattack. Two Lash attacks.

Lash. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 1d10 + 4 slashing plus 1d8 lightning.

Overcharge (Recharge 6). A 20-ft.-radius burst; DC 15 Constitution save, 4d8 lightning (half on a success). On a fail the target also can't take reactions until end of its next turn.

Worker-machines with corrupted vine knotted through their gears: slow, sad, and unstoppable. Around their feet, fist-sized knots of corrupted vine keep coming as long as the engine feeds them.

IRON DRUDGE

Large construct (planar-corrupted), unaligned ♦ CR 3 ♦ freed, not killed

AC 17 HP 68 (8d10 + 24) Speed 25 ft.

STR 19 DEX 8 CON 17 INT 3 WIS 8 CHA 1

Vulnerable fire (corrupted wood and vine in its joints; telegraph the smoke!)

Resist nonmagical B/P/S

Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, exhaustion, poisoned

Senses darkvision 60 ft.

Challenge 3

Traits

Slow but Unstoppable. Can't be knocked prone; ignores difficult terrain. It is slow enough to outrun, but it keeps coming.

Corruption Leak. At 0 HP the blue light gutters out and it slumps, harmless. No death-burst: these were innocent worker-machines, freed rather than destroyed.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Cargo-Arm Slams.

Cargo-Arm Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 2d8 + 4 bludgeoning.

Sweep (Recharge 5-6). A wide swing; each creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 14 Dexterity save, taking 2d6 + 4 bludgeoning (half on a success) and shoved 10 ft. on a fail.

CORRUPTED SPROUTLING

Small plant (planar-corrupted), unaligned ♦ weak but many

AC 12 HP 7 (2d6) Speed 10 ft., climb 10 ft.

STR 8 DEX 14 CON 10 INT 2 WIS 6 CHA 4

Vulnerable fire

Senses darkvision 30 ft.

Traits

Weak but Many. Dies to almost any solid hit; an area effect clears several at once (reward AoE).

Group Turn & Spawn. All Sproutlings act together on one shared initiative. While the engine runs corrupt, a new one crawls from a crack each time one dies.

Actions

Thorn-Lash. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 1d6 + 2 piercing.

Latch. Instead of attacking, it grabs a hero (no damage); the next attack against that hero has advantage.

And then the boss: not a monster, but the city's beloved gentle giant, possessed and grieving inside its own iron. The Guardians broke its legs to bring the core into reach, and the last blow drained the corruption away rather than killing it. A gentle death, never an execution.

THE GRAND CUSTODIAN (POSSESSED)

Gargantuan construct (planar-possessed), unaligned ♦ the boss of Session 7 ♦ a two-phase fight

AC 17 (Body); Legs (x2) AC 15 HP 220 (Body); Legs 90 each Speed 30 ft.

STR 24 DEX 6 CON 22 INT 3 WIS 10 CHA 5

Resist bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing from nonmagical attacks

Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, exhaustion, poisoned, paralyzed, petrified

Traits

The Core Is High. Standing, the core is 40-50 ft. up: only 60-ft.+ ranged attacks and flyers reach it. The legs are ground-level and anyone can strike them.

Topple. Drop both legs (90 HP each) and it crashes to its knees (Phase 2), stops rampaging, and the core drops to 15-20 ft. within everyone's reach. It may slowly repair a leg (to 25 HP) to rise; re-topple it.

Actions

Crushing Stomp. Melee: +8 to hit, reach 15 ft. Hit: 2d10 + 5 bludgeoning, and a DC 15 Dexterity save or knocked prone. (Phases 1 and 2.)

Sweeping Backhand (Recharge 5-6). (Phase 1) A 15-ft. cone; DC 15 Dexterity save, 3d8 and shoved 10 ft. (half and no shove on a success).

Corrupt Bolt. (Phase 1) +8 to hit, range 60 ft. Hit: 3d8 lightning, once per round at someone hanging back.

Clockwork Barrage (Recharge 4-6). (Phase 2) Three projectiles, +8 each. Hit: 2d8 + 3 bludgeoning.

Chain Lightning Burst (Recharge 5-6). (Phase 2) +8 to hit, 4d8 lightning, arcing to two more within 15 ft. for 2d8 (DC 15 Dexterity save for half). Meant to be ANSWERED, not to drop a hero.

Core Flare. (Phase 2, body below half HP) Each creature within 20 ft. makes a DC 15 Constitution save or takes 2d6 force and is blinded until end of its next turn.

The Earth Rift: Underroot

The first plane the Guardians ever walked. A world made of ground all the way through, breathing once a minute, patient beyond patience, and bleeding from a wound somebody put there on purpose.

Rotbloom

ROTBLOOM

Small plant (corrupted), unaligned ♦ CR 1/2 (100 XP) ♦ Session 8

STR 10 DEX 12 CON 14 INT 4 WIS 8 CHA 6

Resist poison ♦ Imm. (cond) blinded, deafened, poisoned

Senses blindsight 30 ft., passive Perception 9

Challenge 1/2 (100 XP)

Traits

Re-Bloom. At the start of its turn, if it took damage since its last turn and is not at 0 HP, it regains 5 hit points. It cannot re-bloom if it has taken radiant damage, or been hit by Cleansing Edge, since its last turn.

Still Smiling. It cannot be frightened, and its face never changes, whatever is happening to it.

Actions

Cap Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +3 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 6 (2d4 + 1) bludgeoning.

Spore Puff (Recharge 5-6). 10-ft cone, DC 12 Constitution save, 7 (2d6) poison and poisoned until the end of its next turn; half and no poisoning on a success.

Mossmite

MOSSMITE

Tiny beast (corrupted), unaligned ◆ CR 1/8 (25 XP) ◆ Session 8

STR 6 DEX 16 CON 12 INT 2 WIS 10 CHA 4

Senses blindsight 30 ft., passive Perception 10

Challenge 1/8 (25 XP)

Traits

Skitter. It does not provoke opportunity attacks.

Pack Nerve. Advantage on attacks against a creature if another Mossmite is within 5 ft. of it.

Actions

Nip. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 5 (1d4 + 3) piercing.

Chimestone

CHIMESTONE

Medium elemental (Plane of Earth), unaligned ♦ CR 3 (700 XP) ♦ Session 8

STR 18 DEX 8 CON 16 INT 5 WIS 12 CHA 6

Resist piercing, slashing ♦ Vulnerable thunder

Imm. poison ♦ (cond) charmed, exhaustion, frightened, poisoned

Senses tremorsense 60 ft., passive Perception 11

Challenge 3 (700 XP)

Traits

Resonant Body. Whenever it takes thunder damage it is stunned until the end of its next turn, and it takes double damage from every source while stunned. This is how you beat them.

Struck Chord. A creature can use an action to strike one of the reef's spires (DC 13 Athletics). Every Chimestone within 30 ft. makes a DC 14 Constitution save or is stunned as above. The striker takes 1d6 thunder from standing that close.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Crystal Rams.

Crystal Ram. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 11 (2d6 + 4) bludgeoning.

Shard Volley. Ranged Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, range 40 ft. Hit: 9 (2d8) piercing.

Vulnerable thunder ◆ Imm. poison ◆ (cond) poisoned, prone

Senses tremorsense 30 ft., passive Perception 11

Challenge 1 (200 XP)

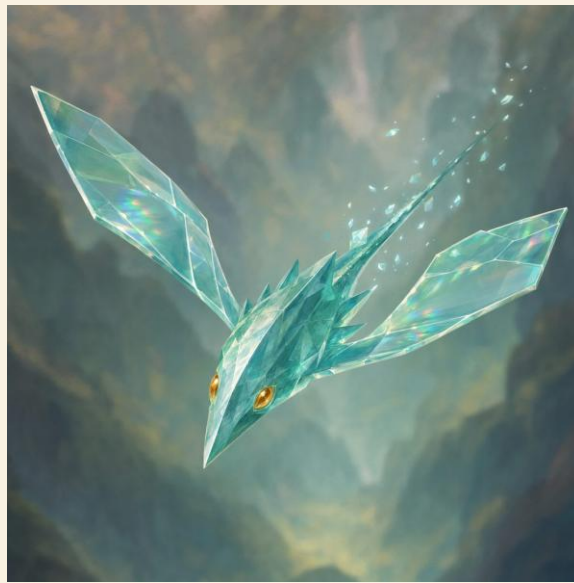

Traits

Glide. It can fly at full speed without provoking opportunity attacks from creatures it starts its turn adjacent to.

Actions

Dive. Melee Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 9 (2d6 + 2) slashing, plus an extra 1d6 if it moved at least 30 ft. straight toward the target first.

Shard Spit. Ranged Weapon Attack: +6 to hit, range 60 ft. Hit: 7 (1d10 + 2) piercing.

Cinderoll

CINDEROLL

Small elemental (corrupted), unaligned ♦ CR 1/2 (100 XP) ♦ Session 8

Imm. fire, poison ♦ (cond) blinded, charmed, deafened, poisoned

Senses blindsight 60 ft., passive Perception 9

Challenge 1/2 (100 XP)

Traits

Rolling Charge. If it moves at least 20 ft. straight toward a target before hitting it, the attack deals an extra 3 (1d6) damage and the target makes a DC 12 Strength save or is knocked prone.

Burst. At 0 hit points it cracks open: each creature within 10 ft. makes a DC 12 Dexterity save or takes 7 (2d6) fire. They arrive in packs, so a chain reaction is very much on the table.

Actions

Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 7 (2d4 + 2) bludgeoning plus 3 (1d6) fire.

Glassling

GLASSLING

Tiny construct (spawned by the spike), unaligned ♦ CR 1/4 (50 XP) ♦ Session 8

Imm. poison, psychic ♦ (cond) blinded, charmed, deafened, frightened, poisoned

Senses blindsight 30 ft., passive Perception 8

Challenge 1/4 (50 XP)

Traits

Spike-Born. The spike in Groudon's back creates one Glassling at the start of each of his turns. When the spike is destroyed, every Glassling collapses into ordinary sand at once.

Shatterburst. At 0 hit points, each creature within 5 ft. makes a DC 12 Dexterity save or takes 5 (2d4) slashing.

Actions

Glass Bite. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft. Hit: 6 (1d6 + 3) slashing.

Senses tremorsense 60 ft., passive Perception 13

Challenge 3 (700 XP)

Traits

Not Actually Angry. It never pursues and it never finishes a downed creature. It is in the way, and it was there first.

Immovable. Advantage on saves and checks against being moved, and it cannot be knocked prone.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Shovel Slams.

Shovel Slam. Melee Weapon Attack: +8 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 14 (2d8 + 5) bludgeoning.

Gleammoth Swarm

GLEAMOTH SWARM

Medium swarm of tiny beasts, unaligned ◆ CR 1 (200 XP) ◆ random encounters only

STR 4 DEX 14 CON 14 INT 1 WIS 10 CHA 4

Resist bludgeoning, piercing, slashing ◆ Vulnerable fire, thunder

Imm. (cond) charmed, frightened, grappled, prone, restrained, stunned

Senses blindsight 20 ft., passive Perception 10

Challenge 1 (200 XP)

Traits

Drawn to Warmth. It always moves toward the warmest or brightest thing it can sense, which is the Essence Sphere. If Lilly is carrying it, the swarm comes for her every turn.

Swarm. It can occupy another creature's space and move through any opening large enough for a single moth.

Actions

Smother. Melee Weapon Attack: +4 to hit, reach 0 ft., one creature in its space. Hit: 10 (4d4) piercing, or 5 (2d4) at half hit points or fewer, and the target is blinded until the end of its next turn.

Glass Weeper

GLASS WEEPER

Large aberration (corrupted guardian-beast), unaligned ◆ CR 6 (2,300 XP) ◆ Session 8

AC 16 (black glass) HP 115 (11d10 + 55) Speed 20 ft.

STR 18 DEX 8 CON 20 INT 4 WIS 12 CHA 5

Resist bludgeoning, piercing, slashing from nonmagical weapons

Imm. poison ◆ (cond) charmed, frightened, poisoned

Senses blindsight 60 ft., passive Perception 11

Challenge 6 (2,300 XP)

Traits

Glassbound. It regains 10 hit points at the start of its turn unless it took radiant or force damage, or was hit by Cleansing Edge, since its last turn.

Grieving. It has disadvantage on attacks against any creature that has not damaged it since the start of its last turn. It is not hunting anyone. It is lashing out.

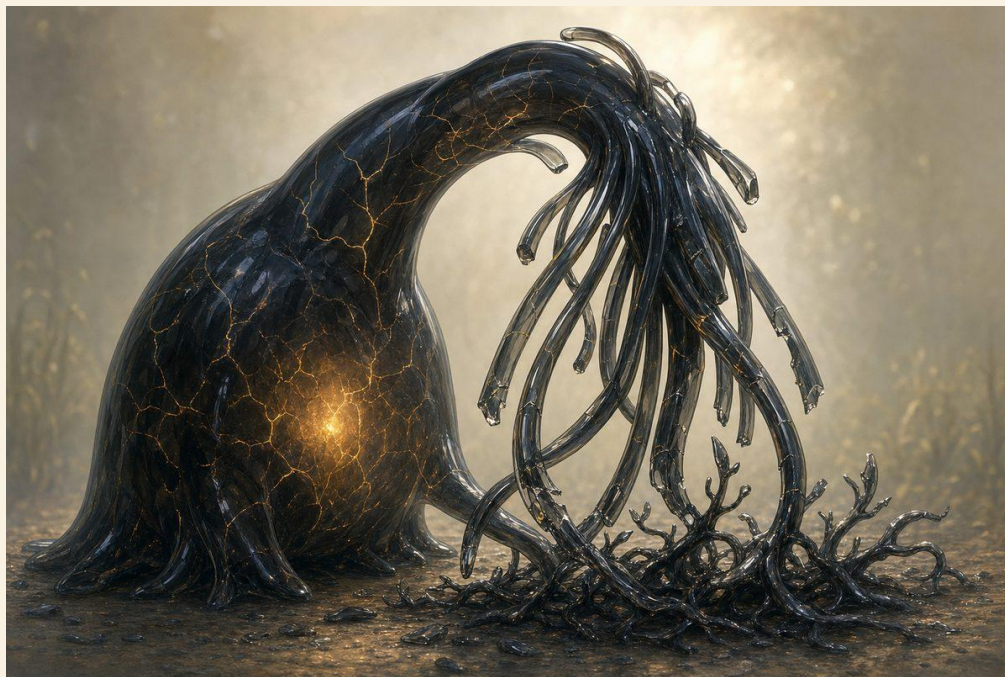

Tending. If a creature spends an action helping the glassed roots (DC 14 Nature or Medicine, or any healing magic spent on the roots rather than a creature), the Weeper loses its next turn and its AC drops by 2 permanently as it calms. Three successes end the encounter without a kill.

Actions

Multiattack. Two Glass Rakes.

Glass Rake. Melee Weapon Attack: +7 to hit, reach 10 ft. Hit: 14 (2d8 + 5) slashing.

Keening (Recharge 5-6). 30-ft cone, DC 15 Constitution save, 21 (6d6) psychic and frightened until the end of its next turn; half and no fear on a success.

Groudon, the Continent-Maker

The Guardian of Underroot, and not an enemy. Somebody drove a spike of black glass into his back where he could not reach it, and every crack in that plane spreads out from that one point. He is the reason there is dry land at all. The encounter is a rescue, and it ends the instant the spike breaks, whatever his hit points are. He is not meant to die.

GROUDON (CORRUPTED)

Gargantuan elemental (Guardian of the Plane of Earth), unaligned ◆ CR 11 (7,200 XP) ◆ Session 8

AC 18 (mountain plate) HP 230 Speed 40 ft., burrow 40 ft.

STR 26 DEX 6 CON 24 INT 8 WIS 14 CHA 12

Resist all damage from nonmagical weapons ◆ Imm. fire, poison

Senses tremorsense 120 ft., passive Perception 12

Challenge 11 (7,200 XP)

Traits

THE SPIKE (the whole encounter). A shard of black glass driven into his shoulder. AC 17, 60 hit points, immune to all damage except radiant, force, and Cleansing Edge. Reaching it means climbing him, flying, or shooting at disadvantage. When the spike is destroyed the encounter ends immediately. Do not run Groudon to 0 hit points.

Unstoppable. Cannot be frightened, charmed, restrained or knocked prone, and ignores difficult terrain.

Agony. While the spike is intact, at the start of each of his turns he takes 10 damage and every creature within 20 ft. makes a DC 16 Dexterity save or takes 10 (3d6) bludgeoning.

He Does Not Finish Them. When Groudon reduces a creature to 0 hit points he immediately moves away from it. He is swatting at pain, not hunting children.

Actions

Continental Step. He moves up to his speed. Every creature on the ground within 30 ft. of his path makes a DC 16 Dexterity save or is knocked prone and takes 11 (2d10) bludgeoning.

Magma Vent (Recharge 4-6). A 60-ft line, 10 ft. wide. DC 17 Dexterity save, 35 (10d6) fire, half on a success.

Claw. Melee Weapon Attack: +12 to hit, reach 15 ft. Hit: 22 (3d10 + 8) slashing.

Thrash (1/round, no action, when the spike takes damage). Every creature climbing him makes a DC 15 Strength or Acrobatics check or falls, taking 3d6 bludgeoning.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ What the Guardians Are For

Every world keeps one. Not a king and not a god: a creature that is somehow the shape of that world's health, so that when the world sickens the guardian sickens first and worst. The Guardians of Elaria have now freed two, a clockwork giant under a city and a mountain with a spine, and both times the cure was the same. Find what is hurting it. Take that out. The world does the rest itself.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Machines Remember

Machines feel the Darkening before people do. A machine is a promise written in brass, and promises are exactly what the Weaver of Fractures unpicks first. When the mills and servitors of the world began to stumble, the made folk of Gearhaven understood it the way sailors understand a red sky, and grieved for the gentle giant most of all.

Part II: Treasures & Relics

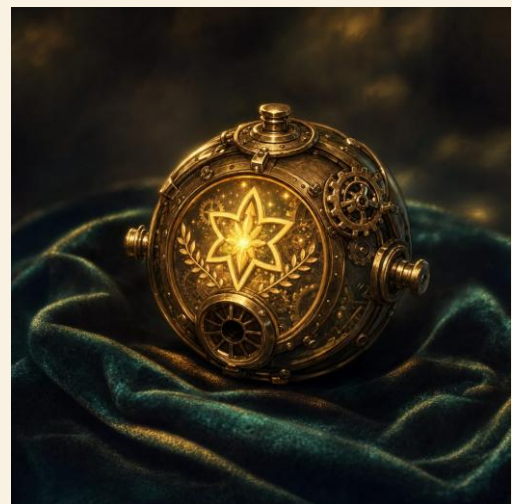

Every treasure of the Guardians' road, from a mother's parting gift to the relics of a sleeping goddess. Items marked with the seven-point star are Elaria's own.

The Great Mysteries

The Essence Sphere

Brass and crystal, warm as a heartbeat, made by the deep-gnome masters of Glimmerspire BEFORE the cracks ever opened (how they knew is a question nobody has answered). It holds Pikachu's sleeping spark, and it is a GATHERER: it pulls loose planar motes to itself and survives holding them, which no other vessel can. It is the missing anchor of Vane's Rift Portal, and it never leaves the party's keeping. Gained Planar Attunement at the Whispering Glade (advantage on Arcana concerning planar magic).

The Circle has no proper word for what the Sphere is, only what it does: it keeps. Whatever loose scrap of another world drifts past, the Sphere gathers it in and holds it steady, the way a lantern keeps a single flame out of the wind. Every other vessel the deep gnomes ever tried cracked, dimmed, or worse. This one only glows a little warmer, and waits.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Sign of Seven Points

The old tellings agree that Elaria signed her safeguards the way a mother sews a name into a coat: not so the gift would be admired, but so it could always find its way home. The seven points are said to be the seven planes she kept turning, and the leafed vine that wraps them is the world itself, holding on. When one of her gifts is near, the sign is said to warm, as if glad to be recognized.

The Three Enchanted Potatoes

Ash Catchum's legacy to his son: three unassuming potatoes that are anything but. The goddess named them remnants of a shattered covenant, safeguards bound from her own essence in the old lore (Healing, Transformation, Insight). They pulse when the world thins, a slow warm beat you feel in the palm more than hear, and they have never once spoiled, sprouted crooked, or agreed to be eaten. Their hour has not yet come, but the Circle is patient, and so, apparently, are the potatoes.

Ursa carries them wrapped in a cloth his father knotted, and will not say why he trusts three root vegetables with the fate of anything. He only shrugs and says they came from Ash, and that Ash was rarely wrong about which small things turned out to matter.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Enchanted Potatoes

The Circle keeps a very old, very short list titled "Safeguards, Probable." Entry nine reads: "The traveling potatoes. Warm to the touch. Kindly disposition. Keep planting them." Nobody knows who wrote it. The handwriting is extremely old.

Stabby's Idol

A small carved figure Stabby found tucked in his bag after Wraithpine, though nobody saw who put it there. It goes ice cold near rifts, and corruption recoils from it. It has dreams in it. That is all anyone knows, yet.

Stabby will not part with it, and cannot say why. He only knows the dark feels friendlier when the idol rides in his pack, that the coldest nights on the road are the ones it warns him of, and that once, half asleep, he heard it breathing in time with him. The idol keeps its own counsel. So, for now, does he.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Scattered Safeguards

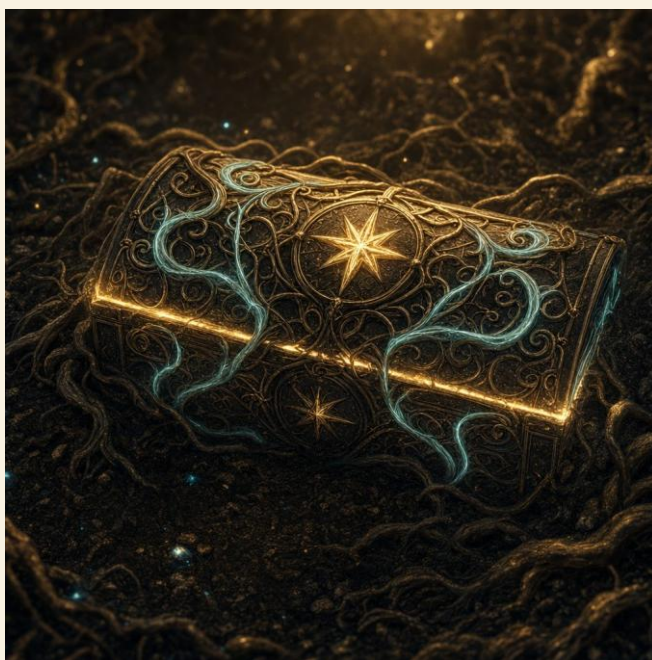

No one has ever counted the safeguards, which is the point of scattering. Some hang in plain sight in tavern rafters. Some sleep in root cellars, humble as potatoes. The old rule of the Circle is: treat every odd little thing kindly, in case it is holding up the sky.

Relics of Elaria (the Wraithpine Chest)

One half-buried chest, bound in vines of silver and root, opened by Ghostbloom's song beneath the Old Theater. Inside, three gifts, each bearing the seven-point star.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ One Chest, Three Gifts

The Circle teaches that the Warden never gave a gift to one hand alone. Her safeguards came in sets, they say, because a thing meant to hold up the sky is too heavy for any single pair of arms. The chest that opened to a song beneath the old theater held three gifts and one lesson: a stave for the sky, a sash for the swift, and a small bright core for the maker, and none of the three was meant to be carried without the other two.

The Wraithpine chest, bound in silver vines.

Staff of Waking Constellations (Ursa)

Staff of Waking Constellations

+1 quarterstaff, druidic focus (a +2 once awakened on the Reader of Omens road). 5 charges, regain 1d4 + 1 at dawn: guiding bolt (1), faerie fire (1), moonbeam (2).

Starseed. Once per turn, +1d4 radiant when Ursa deals radiant damage with a druid spell, rising to +1d8 once the staff is awakened (house rule: druid spells only).

Starlight. Bonus action: 10 ft. dim light; advantage on night navigation.

The counter-weapon: after every great victory, one new star brightens on its haft. The enemy puts stars out; the Staff lights them.

Sash of the Swift Current, Rewoven (Stabby)

Sash of the Swift Current (Rewoven)

Scarlet stage-silk rewoven with theater rigging thread. +1 AC (stacks with Unarmored Defense).

Fleetstep. +10 ft. walking speed. Air Dance. 1/day bonus action: fly speed equal to walking, 1 minute.

Feather Fall. 1/day, no components. Its star sigil is cupped by a pair of wings.

Glimmerspire Pocket Dynamo, Mk II (Lilly)

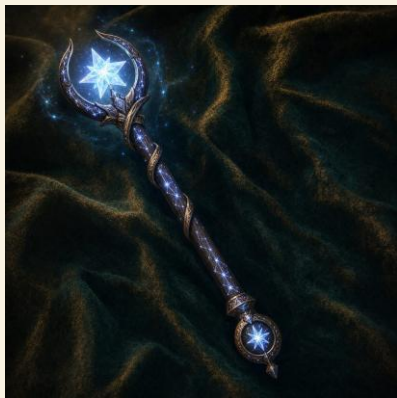

Glimmerspire Pocket Dynamo (Mk II)

A thumb-sized brass core stamped PROP ROOM in stage-engraver script (a mystery unexplained).

Pocket Arsenal. Deploy or recall the Eldritch Cannon as a free action. Endurance Overhaul. Cannon lasts 24 hours.

Power Sync. Cannon deals +2 damage. Reformat. 1/long rest, action: change the cannon's model.

Near Ghostbloom, the core glows soft ghost-green, like a stage cue waiting for its moment.

The Staff of Waking Constellations.

The Sash of the Swift Current, rewoven.

Lilly with the Pocket Dynamo.

Gifts of Faelan (Havenmoor, Session 4)

Frostbite Shard Dagger (Lilly)

Frostbite Shard Dagger

Rare, attunement by an Artificer. Crystalline ice that never melts. 1d4 piercing + 1d4 cold, +1 to attack.

Spell focus and Arcane Firearm. +1d8 frost to one spell damage roll cast through it; +2 frost on spell damage.

Amulet of Guiding Light (Ursa)

Amulet of Guiding Light

Rare, attunement by a Circle of Stars druid.

Guiding Light. Sheds light; allies gain +1 to attacks and saves while Ursa is in Starry Form. Once the amulet is awakened on the Reader of Omens road, this reaches every ally within 30 feet.

Starry Glow. Reaction, 1/long rest: 2d8 radiant, DC 15 Con or blinded. Celestial Resilience. Reroll natural 1s, 2/long rest.

Candyfang Katana (Stabby)

Candyfang Katana

Rare, attunement by a Monk. A katana of impossible candy-striped steel. 1d8/1d10 slashing, +1 attack and damage.

Sugar Rush. Bonus action lick, 1/long rest: 2d8 + Con temporary HP. Frostbite Infusion. +2 frost on hit. Destined to become a Bloodfang heirloom when the Nichirin blade comes.

The Frostbite Shard Dagger.

The Amulet of Guiding Light.

The Candyfang Katana.

Boons, Baubles & Blessings

Elaria's boons (the Whispering Glade, Session 2): Ursa, Planar Awareness (sense planar disturbances, 24 hours); Lilly, the Sphere's Planar Attunement; Stabby, Glimpse of Possibility (one reroll, because the goddess smiled at the goblin).

The eight Winter Bells (Session 4). C, D, E, F, G, A, B, High C: relics of Elaria's light hidden across Havenmoor. Rung in harmony they unmade the Krampusshade. Faelan's Frosted Cookies: 2d8 healing, a short rest's comfort, and one spell slot, in cookie form.

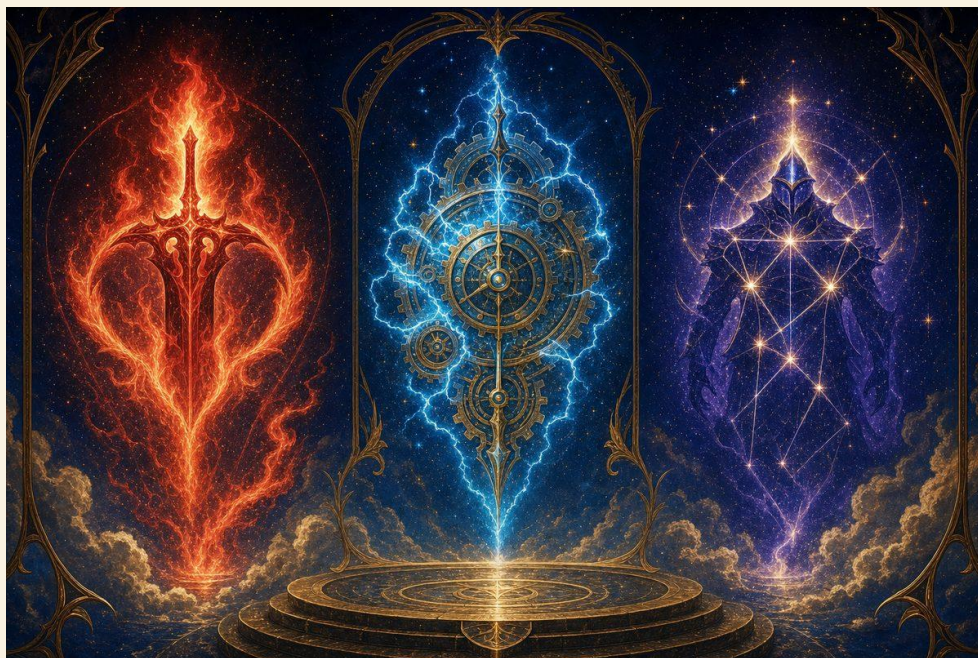

Curios of the road. The Shadow-Touched Rune Fragment (advantage vs fear, 1 hour); the Dark Fragment of Stormwatch Cliffs (crystallized chaos, evidence of sabotage); Terranox's stone fragments and the elemental mud samples of the Grove of Elemental Waters; beeswax earplugs that beat a monster's song; a bell-handled blue lantern from Pumpkin Row; Alwen's flasks of lucky seawater.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Bells of the Coast

When the safeguards were scattered, eight fell along the southern coast as bells, each holding one clear note of the song Elaria sang while she worked. Havenmoor built its festival around them centuries before anyone remembered why the bells mattered. The town rang them every winter anyway. Traditions are how a town remembers what its people forget, and one winter the ringing unmade a fiend.

Part III: Custom Content

Homebrew and rulings of this table: the paths the heroes may walk after the year apart, and the standing rules of the campaign. 2024 rules throughout; house rules override the books. The heroes themselves, every number, slot, and spell, now live in Part IV: The Guardians' Character Sheets.

House Rules & Standing Rulings

House rules (adjudications beyond the printed rules).

1. Ursa's Starseed +1d4 applies only to actual druid spells, never the Starry Form Archer's luminous arrow.
2. Potent Spellcasting rides the kindled staff once per turn (Ursa, from level 7; no double-dipping with a cantrip in the same turn).

2024 notes (these are the printed rules, recorded so the table never slips back to older text). Patient Defense's free tier is Disengage; Dodge costs 1 Focus Point. Eating a Goodberry is a Bonus Action. Shillelagh replaced Primal Savagery on Ursa's sheet. Deep gnome uses the current printing (Svirfneblin Camouflage; Disguise Self and Nondetection 1/long rest each). The Eldritch Cannon picks its mode on every activation. The Air Bestial Spirit has 20 Hit Points by its own stat block.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The First Listeners

Before there were villages there were listeners. The first druids did not learn magic; they learned quiet, and the forests, glad of the company, taught them the rest. The Circle of the Eternal Stars still opens every gathering with a full minute of silence, in honor of the age when that was the whole religion.

The Three Doors

At the close of the Gearhaven chapter the Guardians parted for a year: a year of workshops and roads and night skies, each hero following their own heart home. Before each of them stand three doors, three ways that year apart might be spent, and behind every door waits a different gift.

The chapters that follow set down what waits behind all nine: Stabby's three breathing styles, Ursa's three paths of the stars, and Lilly's three artifacts. Each Guardian will choose exactly one door, and none of the three has chosen yet. When they do, the doors not taken will remain in these pages, roads not walked, ready for other heroes in other tellings.

Stabby, before the three breathing styles.

Ursa, before the three paths of the stars.

Lilly, before the three artifacts.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Roads Not Taken

The old tellings are gentle about the doors a hero leaves closed. A road not walked is not a road lost, the Circle says, only a road lent to someone else. Every path in these pages was true; a Guardian simply cannot be three heroes at once, and the year apart is the world's kind way of asking each of them who they most wish to become.

The parting at Gearhaven's gates: three friends, three roads, one year.

Warrior of Breathing (Stabby's Path)

A homebrew monk subclass taken at level 7 in place of Kensei. A Warrior of Breathing kindles an inner style, a visible breath that wreathes the blade. Three doors, three breathing styles; every road grants the Nichirin Katana, and every First Form replaces Flurry of Blows. The full text of all three follows.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ What a Breathing Style Is

The mountain monks say a breathing style is not a trick of the lungs but a way of remembering. Every warrior carries a wild thing, a still river, and a patch of honest dark somewhere inside them; a breathing style is simply the practice of calling one of them up on purpose, and setting it down again when the fight is done. The breath, the old masters warn, is easy to light and hard to quench, which is why they teach the quenching first.

Beast Breathing: the Bloodfang Form

“You think too much, little storm. The beast does not think. The beast moves, and the beast is already behind you.” (the lesson Stabby finally understood)

Some warriors learn to still the storm inside them. The Warrior of Beast Breathing learns to ride it. Where other monks seek calm, this form reaches into the wild, animal heart of the fighter: the part that does not hesitate, does not flinch, and does not stop. Practitioners breathe in time with a racing heartbeat rather than a slow one, and when they ignite their breath, their blade glows blood-red and their body moves with the loping, unstoppable grace of a hunting beast.

It is a form born of survival rather than discipline, favored by those who grew up where the strong eat and the slow are eaten. To master it is not to tame the beast, but to become it on command, and to remember how to set it down again afterward.

Features by Monk Level. You gain Warrior of Beast Breathing features at Monk levels 3 (Beast Breathing), 6 (First Form: Devour), 11 (Advanced Beast Breathing), and 17 (Third Form: Apex Predator).

Level 3: Beast Breathing

Monk Weapons. A katana, as well as any sword you adopt as your signature blade, counts as a Monk weapon for you. You can use your Martial Arts die with it, and you can use this subclass's features with it. You can still make an Unarmed Strike as a Bonus Action.

Beast Sense. Your senses are sharp as a hunting animal's, even out of combat. You have Advantage on Wisdom (Survival) checks made to track creatures, on Wisdom (Perception) checks that rely on smell or hearing, and on Charisma (Intimidation) checks.

Igniting the Breath. When you roll Initiative, you can expend 1 Focus Point to ignite your breath. It lasts until the combat ends, until you have the Incapacitated condition, or until you end it (no action required).

While your breath is ignited, your weapon glows blood-red, and whenever you hit a target with it, the target takes an extra 2 Force damage.

Beast's Vigor. While your breath is ignited, your Speed increases by 10 feet, and you have Advantage on Dexterity saving throws.

Level 6: First Form: Devour

First Form: Devour. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 1 Focus Point to move up to 15 feet without provoking Opportunity Attacks and make one attack with your Monk weapon. On a hit, the target takes Force damage equal to 3d8 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal. If the attack reduces the target to 0 Hit Points, you regain the expended Focus Point. This feature replaces Flurry of Blows for you.

Level 11: Advanced Beast Breathing

Advanced Breathing. Your ignited breath grows fiercer. While your breath is ignited, you retain all its other benefits, you have Resistance to Bludgeoning, Piercing, and Slashing damage, and the extra Force damage your weapon deals increases from 2 to 3.

Sharpened Fang. The damage of your First Form: Devour increases to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier.

Level 17: Third Form: Apex Predator

Third Form: Apex Predator. You become a blur of fang and steel. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 3 Focus Points to move up to your Speed without provoking Opportunity Attacks and make one attack with your Monk weapon against each of up to three different creatures you move within reach of. On a hit, the target takes Force damage equal to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal. Each creature hit must succeed on a Strength saving throw (DC 8 plus your Wisdom modifier and Proficiency Bonus) or have the Prone condition. You regain 1 expended Focus Point for each creature this feature reduces to 0 Hit Points.

Water Breathing: the Monastery Form

"Be water. Water does not strike; it flows, and the rock is cut all the same. Now breathe, and begin again." (Master Kaelon Windstep)

The Warrior of Water Breathing is the form of the patient master, the discipline that other monks spend their whole lives chasing. Its practitioners learn to move like a river: never rigid, never still, every strike flowing into the next, every blow turned aside by giving way rather than resisting. When they ignite their breath, their blade runs pale blue and cold, and their guard becomes as fluid and unbroken as a current that cannot be grasped.

It is the most traditional of the breathing forms, and the hardest to truly master, for it asks the warrior to be calm in the middle of chaos. Those who walk this path are as often menders as fighters, for the same stillness that turns a blade can also close a wound, and the same patience that wins a duel can sit a long vigil at a friend's side.

Features by Monk Level. You gain Warrior of Water Breathing features at Monk levels 3 (Water Breathing), 6 (First Form: Flowing Strike and Healing Spring, First Water), 11 (Advanced Water Breathing and the full Healing Spring), and 17 (Third Form: Tidal Crash).

Level 3: Water Breathing

Monk Weapons. A katana, as well as any sword you adopt as your signature blade, counts as a Monk weapon for you. You can use your Martial Arts die with it, and you can use this subclass's features with it. You can still make an Unarmed Strike as a Bonus Action.

Igniting the Breath. When you roll Initiative, you can expend 1 Focus Point to ignite your breath. It lasts until the combat ends, until you have the Incapacitated condition, or until you end it (no action required). While your breath is ignited, your weapon glows pale blue, and whenever you hit a target with it, the target takes an extra 2 Cold damage.

Flowing Guard. While your breath is ignited, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor Class against the first attack roll made against you before the start of each of your turns.

Level 6: First Form: Flowing Strike

First Form: Flowing Strike. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 1 Focus Point to move up to 15 feet without provoking Opportunity Attacks and make one attack with your Monk weapon. On a hit, the target takes Cold damage equal to 3d8 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal. If the attack hits, the target must also succeed on a Dexterity saving throw (DC 8 plus your Wisdom modifier and Proficiency Bonus) or have the Prone condition. This feature replaces Flurry of Blows for you.

Healing Spring (First Water). As a Bonus Action, you can touch yourself or another creature, and the target regains a number of Hit Points equal to 2d8 plus your Wisdom modifier. Once you use this benefit, you can't use it again until you finish a Short or Long Rest. This benefit improves when you reach Monk level 11 (Healing Spring).

Level 11: Advanced Water Breathing

Advanced Breathing. Your ignited breath deepens. While your breath is ignited, you retain all its other benefits, and whenever you hit a creature with your Monk weapon, that creature's Speed is reduced by 10 feet until the start of your next turn.

Sharpened Flow. The damage of your First Form: Flowing Strike increases to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier.

Healing Spring. When you use your Healing Spring, the target now regains a number of Hit Points equal to 4d8 plus your Wisdom modifier. Once you use this benefit, you can't use it again until you finish a Short or Long Rest.

Level 17: Third Form: Tidal Crash

Third Form: Tidal Crash. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 3 Focus Points to move up to 20 feet and make one attack with your Monk weapon against each of up to three different creatures within your reach during that movement. On a hit, the target takes Cold damage equal to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal. Each creature hit must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw (DC 8 plus your Wisdom modifier and Proficiency Bonus) or have the Prone condition and a Speed of 0 until the end of its next turn.

Shadow Breathing: the Idol Form

"Do not fear the dark. Breathe it in. Let it fill you, and then there is nothing left in the dark to fear you." (a whisper from the idol)

The Warrior of Shadow Breathing is the strangest and most secretive of the forms, a discipline touched by something older than any monastery. Its practitioners breathe in the gloom itself, drawing the dark into their lungs until it answers to them. When they ignite their breath, their blade runs violet-black, the shadows fold around them like a cloak, and they see clearly in darkness that blinds everyone else.

Few teach this form openly, for it walks close to powers most monks are warned away from. Those who carry it often carry a question they cannot yet answer: why the dark heeds them, where the breath truly comes from, and what waits at the end of the path they have started down. Mastered well, it makes a warrior into something the night itself seems to bend around.

Features by Monk Level. You gain Warrior of Shadow Breathing features at Monk levels 3 (Shadow Breathing), 6 (First Form: Umbral Slash), 11 (Advanced Shadow Breathing), and 17 (Third Form: Eclipse).

Level 3: Shadow Breathing

Monk Weapons. A katana, as well as any sword you adopt as your signature blade, counts as a Monk weapon for you. You can use your Martial Arts die with it, and you can use this subclass's features with it. You can still make an Unarmed Strike as a Bonus Action.

Eyes of the Idol. The idol's gift never fully leaves you. You have Darkvision with a range of 60 feet (if you already have Darkvision, its range increases by 60 feet), and you have Advantage on Dexterity (Stealth) checks.

Igniting the Breath. When you roll Initiative, you can expend 1 Focus Point to ignite your breath. It lasts until the combat ends, until you have the Incapacitated condition, or until you end it (no action required). While your breath is ignited, your weapon glows violet-black, and whenever you hit a target with it, the target takes an extra 2 Necrotic damage.

One With the Gloom. While your breath is ignited, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor Class against ranged attack rolls, and you can see normally in magical Darkness.

Level 6: First Form: Umbral Slash

First Form: Umbral Slash. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 1 Focus Point to teleport up to 15 feet to an unoccupied space you can see within 5 feet of a creature. Magical Darkness then fills a 10-foot Cube of your choice, which must contain that creature's space. You then make one attack with your Monk weapon against that creature, and you have Advantage on the attack roll. On a hit, the target takes Necrotic damage equal to 3d8 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal.

You can see through Darkness created by this feature. The Darkness lasts until the end of your next turn, or you can end it early (no action required). This feature replaces Flurry of Blows for you.

► The gloom is his alone. Stabby sees through his own Darkness; his allies cannot. Allies make ranged attack rolls with Disadvantage against a creature wrapped in the gloom, and spells that require a visible target cannot reach it at all, so the party learns to pick different targets while the shadow does its work.

Level 11: Advanced Shadow Breathing

Advanced Breathing. Your ignited breath drinks deeper of the dark. While your breath is ignited, you retain all its other benefits. In addition, once per turn when you hit a creature with an attack roll that had Advantage, the target takes an extra 2d6 Necrotic damage.

Sharpened Gloom. The damage of your First Form: Umbral Slash increases to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier.

Level 17: Third Form: Eclipse

Third Form: Eclipse. You vanish into the gloom and strike from everywhere at once. As a Bonus Action, you can expend 3 Focus Points to fill a 20-foot Cube centered on yourself with magical Darkness, which you can see through. For each of up to three different creatures in the Cube, you can teleport to an unoccupied space you can see within 5 feet of that creature and make one attack with your Monk weapon against it, and you have Advantage on each attack roll. On a hit, the target takes Necrotic damage equal to 5d10 plus your Dexterity modifier instead of the weapon's normal damage. Bonuses to the weapon's damage rolls (such as the Nichirin katana's +2 bonus and the extra damage from your ignited breath) apply as normal. Each creature hit has the Blinded condition until the end of your next turn, and creatures other than you can't see you until the Darkness ends.

The Demon-Slayer's Blade: the Nichirin Katana

This sun-forged demon-slayer blade was made from crimson ore that drinks in dawnlight. While sheathed, the steel looks dark and almost ordinary, but when Stabby ignites his breathing, the blade catches that breath and burns with the color of his chosen form.

Nichirin Katana

Weapon (Katana), Rare (Requires Attunement by Stabby)

Weapon Statistics. The Nichirin katana uses the statistics of a Longsword (1d8 Slashing damage) and has the Finesse and Versatile (1d10) properties, and it counts as a Monk weapon for you. Because the weapon has the Finesse property and is a Monk weapon for you, you can use your Dexterity modifier for its attack and damage rolls.

Magic Weapon. You gain a +2 bonus to attack rolls and damage rolls made with this magic weapon.

Breath-Kindled Steel. When you ignite your breathing, the blade glows with the color and nature of that form: blood-red for Beast Breathing, pale blue for Water Breathing, or violet-black for Shadow Breathing. This glow is magical but sheds only Dim Light unless you choose otherwise.

Cleansing Edge. Once per turn when you hit a Fiend, an Undead, a shadow creature, or a creature empowered by planar corruption with this weapon, the blade burns away corruption until the start of your next turn. Until then, the target can't regain Hit Points and can't benefit from magical Darkness or shadowy concealment against you. Any visible corruption around the wound briefly burns, cracks, or peels away in sparks of purified light.

The blade wounds the corruption, not the creature beneath; when a corrupted guardian falls to it, what breaks is the darkness.

The Nichirin Katana: dark steel waiting for dawnlight.

Lore of the Blade

They say the first Nichirin blades were quenched not in water or oil but in the light of dawn itself, folded by smiths who worked only in the hour before sunrise. The ore came from a single mountain that caught the morning sun before anywhere else in the world, and steel drawn from it never forgot that first warmth. A finished blade looks plain and dark in an idle hand; it is waiting. Only a warrior who can kindle their own breath can wake the color sleeping in the metal.

For a creature of corruption, that waking light is a death sentence. Where an ordinary sword cuts flesh, a Nichirin blade cuts the rot itself: the shadow that hides a fiend, the dark magic that knits an undead back together, the planar taint that lets a horror shrug off honest steel. Stabby's blade chose its colors from his own breathing forms, and now it burns red, blue, or violet to match whichever beast, river, or shadow he calls upon.

A whispered rumor. Old hunters claim a Nichirin blade can never be truly stolen: carried by the wrong hand, the steel stays cold and dull and will not take an edge. No one in living memory has dared find out.

Setting Down the Kensei's Way

When Stabby takes up a breathing form at Level 7, the Kensei's tricks retire with his old teacher's lessons: Kensei's Shot and Agile Parry go, and the Repeating Longbow becomes simply a very good bow. In exchange he gains a stance he can ignite every single fight, a First Form that turns his Bonus Action into a $3d8 + 5$ strike with 15 feet of free movement, and a road that grows with him to Level 17. He is trading a parry for a predator's gait. (And Candyfang remains: an heirloom at his belt, or one day a gift worthy of a Bloodfang.)

Paths of the Stars (Ursa's Path)

For Ursa Catchum, Circle of the Stars Druid: the year apart, Level 5 to 7. Ursa walked one of three roads during the year apart, and came back changed. Each road deepens something Ursa already does: his summons, his starry form, or his omens. Each road grants a feat (what he sought) and a keepsake (what found him): he gains the pair matching his road. These are special story feats: they grant no Ability Score Increase.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Star-Paths of the Circle

The Circle holds that no druid chooses the stars; the stars choose, and the druid only walks to meet them. Three roads are said to open before a sky-reader who has served the Circle well: one into the wild, where the living world answers; one into the sky, where the constellations lend their light; and one along a father's trail, where the omens stop coming at random and begin, at last, to obey. A druid walks one road and comes back changed, and the two roads not taken wait, patient as starlight, for whoever comes next.

Beast Handler: The Living World (the road into the wild)

"You went out to learn the speech of wild things. You came back, and three of them followed you home."

Beast Handler (feat)

Story Feat

You gain the following benefits.

Mightier Summons. Whenever you cast the Summon Beast spell, the spell takes effect as if you had cast it using a spell slot of the highest level you can cast, without expending a slot of that level.

Signature Partners. Your Summon Beast spell no longer conjures a nameless spirit. When you cast the spell, one of your three partners answers the call: Arcanine, Lapras, or Noctowl. The partner uses the Signature Partner stat block below, with the traits and actions marked for it.

Wild Speech. You and any beast you summon can communicate simple ideas with each other telepathically.

Ursa walked the wild year with three companions, and they answer his call still. These are not spirits wearing borrowed shapes; they are his friends, and he named each one the day it chose him.

Arcanine, the Land partner.

Lapras, the Water partner.

Noctowl, the Air partner.

Signature Partner

Beast (Arcanine: Medium, Land. Lapras: Large, Water. Noctowl: Small, Air), Unaligned

Armor Class: 11 + the level of the spell (natural armor)

Hit Points: 30 + 10 for each spell level above 2 (Noctowl: 20 + 10 for each spell level above 2nd)

Speed: 40 ft., climb 40 ft. (Arcanine only); 30 ft., swim 40 ft. (Lapras only); 20 ft., fly 60 ft. (Noctowl only)

STR	DEX	CON	INT	WIS	CHA
18 (+4)	11 (+0)	16 (+3)	4 (−3)	14 (+2)	5 (−3)

Damage Vulnerabilities: Cold (Arcanine only); Lightning (Lapras and Noctowl only)

Damage Immunities: Fire (Arcanine only); Cold (Lapras only); Necrotic (Noctowl only)

Senses: darkvision 60 ft., passive Perception 12

Languages: understands the languages you speak

Challenge: None

Proficiency Bonus: equals your bonus

Traits

Intimidate (Arcanine Only). When the partner appears, each enemy within 15 feet of it must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw against your spell save DC or take a −2 penalty to attack rolls until the end of its next turn.

Shell Armor (Lapras Only). Attack rolls against the partner can't be Critical Hits.

Keen Eye (Noctowl Only). The partner's attack rolls can't have Disadvantage, and its sight isn't impeded by Dim Light or Darkness.

Flyby (Noctowl Only). The partner doesn't provoke Opportunity Attacks when it flies out of an enemy's reach.

Actions

Multiattack. The partner makes a number of Rend attacks equal to half this spell's level (round down).

Rend. Melee Attack Roll: your spell attack modifier, reach 5 ft. Hit: 1d8 + 4 + the spell's level Slashing damage.

Extreme Speed (Arcanine Only). The partner moves up to its Speed without provoking Opportunity Attacks and makes one Rend attack. On a hit, the target takes extra Fire damage equal to twice the spell's level.

Ice Beam (Lapras Only). When the partner uses Multiattack, it can replace any Rend with an Ice Beam. Ranged Attack Roll: your spell attack modifier, range 60 ft. Hit: 1d8 + 4 + the spell's level Cold damage, and the target's Speed decreases by 10 feet until the start of the partner's next turn.

Hypnosis (Noctowl Only; Recharge 5–6). One creature the partner can see within 30 feet must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw against your spell save DC or have the Incapacitated condition until the end of the partner's next turn or until it takes damage.

Arcanine. Legendary for its speed, it is said to run six thousand miles in a day and a night, driven by a flame that burns within. The old tales say folk stood entranced just watching it run.

Lapras. Intelligent enough to understand speech, it ferries travelers across cold water on its broad back, and it sings where sailors can hear.

Noctowl. Its eyes see by the faintest starlight, its head turns all the way around when it thinks, and its wings make no sound at all.

The Wildheart Token

Wondrous Item (carved by his own hand)

Three small totems strung on one leather cord, one for each partner, whittled beside the wild year's campfires. When a partner you summoned would drop to 0 Hit Points, it drops to 1 Hit Point instead. Once this property is used, it can't be used again until the next dawn.

► Naming is a table ceremony: the player names each partner the first time Ursa calls it, exactly like a first catch, and the chosen names go into the printed book alongside the species. Base creatures locked by the DM 2026-07-13: Arcanine, Lapras, and Noctowl, played as realistic-fantasy reskins.

Starlit Channeler: The Circle of Stars (the road into the sky)

“You returned to the Circle, and every constellation answered: their light now runs down your arm and out through the staff. Whatever stars you wear, the Warden's spear sweeps between danger and the party.”

The Warden stands guard in Ursa's starlight.

Starlit Channeler (feat)

Story Feat (Prerequisite: Starry Form Feature)

You gain the following benefits.

The Warden's Mantle. You learn the Shillelagh cantrip, and Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for it. When you assume your Starry Form, you cast Shillelagh through your Staff of Waking Constellations as part of the same Bonus Action, and the spell lasts until the form ends rather than for 1 minute. While your Starry Form is active, whichever constellation you chose: the Staff's Starlight kindles with the form (no action required) and reaches 20 feet, and each ally within that light gains a +1 bonus to attack rolls and saving throws; the kindled staff deals Radiant damage, and when you hit with it, the target takes an extra 1d6 Radiant damage (this extra damage increases to 2d6 at Druid level 11 and 3d6 at Druid level 17); and the Warden, a spear-bearing figure of starlight, stands guard in your glow.

Warden's Intercession. While your Starry Form is active, when a creature you can see hits an ally within your Starlight, you can take a Reaction to reduce the damage the ally takes by 1d8 plus your Wisdom modifier.

Constellation Gifts. While your Starry Form is active, you also gain the benefit below for the constellation you chose.

Archer. When you hit a creature with the Archer's luminous arrow, the arrow's light clings to it, and the next attack roll made against that creature before the start of your next turn has Advantage.

Chalice. When the Chalice's light restores Hit Points, you can divide those Hit Points between two creatures within 30 feet of yourself.

Dragon. Allies within your Starlight can treat a d20 roll of 9 or lower as a 10 on Constitution saving throws to maintain Concentration.

► The kindled staff IS the Shillelagh spell, so Starseed (+1d4) rides its strikes once per turn (house rule 1; never the Archer's arrow), and its damage counts as cantrip damage (Potent Spellcasting applies from Druid level 7, once per turn, house rule 2). The Warden is no longer a fourth constellation to pick: the mantle rides every form (DM ruling 2026-07-13). Sheet note: the feat grants Shillelagh, so Ursa's known copy frees up for a swap.

The Staff Wakes Further

The relic grows, as promised. The Staff of Waking Constellations has always brightened a new star after every victory; on this road, it brightens for him. It is the vessel the Warden shines through: when the constellation widens its Starlight to 20 feet, it is this staff carrying the light, and the whole party fits inside it. The staff now has 6 charges and regains 1d4 + 2 expended charges daily at dawn.

Reader of Omens: The Father's Trail (the road east)

“Your father read the sky the way other folk read a map. On his trail you learned his art: the omens no longer come at random, and you choose your moment.”

At dawn the stone dreams the day to come.

Reader of Omens (feat)

Story Feat (Prerequisite: Cosmic Omen Feature)

You gain the following benefits.

Omen Dreams. When you finish a Long Rest, roll two d20s and record the numbers rolled. These are your omens for the day. When you or a creature you can see is about to make a D20 Test, you can replace the d20 roll with one of your omens (no action required). You must choose to do so before the roll, and you can use each omen only once. When you finish a Long Rest, you lose any unused omens.

Both Omens. When you consult your Star Map after finishing a Long Rest, you don't roll for a single omen. Instead, you gain access to both Weal and Woe until your next Long Rest.

Read the Moment. When you take the Reaction granted by your Cosmic Omen feature, you can wait until after the d20 is rolled but before you know whether the roll succeeds or fails. You then choose whether to apply Weal or Woe.

The Stronger Tide. Your omens run deeper than an ordinary star-reader's. Weal now adds 1d6 + 2 to the roll, and Woe subtracts 1d6 + 2 from it.

Awakened Gifts. The road east wakes what you already carry. Your Staff of Waking Constellations becomes a +2 quarterstaff and its Starseed rises from 1d4 to 1d8; your Amulet of Guiding Light sheds its bonus to every ally within 30 feet of you rather than only to those standing in its light.

Shared Tides. Your uses of Cosmic Omen remain a single pool: you can use the feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier, expending one use on either Weal or Woe, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Long Rest.

► Cosmic Omen is the Circle of Stars feature Ursa gained at Druid level 6.

Woe lands after the die is cast: turning an enemy's save into a failure at the perfect moment feels like fate itself.

The dreamed day has its own table craft: when an omen is spent, Ursa's player speaks the dreamed number aloud before the die would fall. "I dreamed this. The arrow lands on a 3." Watching the world obey the dream is the whole art.

Ash's Sigil-Stone

Wondrous Item, Rare (Requires Attunement by Ursa)

A river-smooth stone etched with a half-finished sigil of Elaria, in Ash's own hand. Recovered on the trail, it sits warm in the palm whenever it is carried east. Cast between fights, it knits the party whole and kindles Ursa's Chalice splash besides. One day, when the sigil is finished, it may wake.

While holding the stone, you can cast Aura of Vitality from it without expending a spell slot. Once this property is used, it can't be used again until you finish a Long Rest.

The Stone Looks Ahead. The stone has 2 charges and regains all expended charges daily at dawn. As a Magic action, you can expend 1 charge to do one of the following.

Ask the Day. Ask the DM one yes-or-no question about the day ahead. You receive a truthful "yes" or "no," or silence if the answer cannot be known.

Glimpse the Trail. Learn what waits on one unrevealed rift-board space within 1 mile.

Read the Heart. Learn a visible creature's emotional state and attitude toward the party.

With the Staff and the Amulet, the Stone closes Ursa's third and final attunement slot.

► The Session 12 clue rides here.

Ursa gains the one road he walked, feat and keepsake together. The other two roads remain: the stars are patient, and the wild does not forget him.

Glimmerstone Artifacts (Lilly's Path)

One weapon and one mastery, forged for Lilly Glimmergear in the year apart. Wherever her road leads, Poots's parting work finds her: Boomstick, the sidearm no Level 7 Artillerist walks into the rifts without. On top of the gun, the year teaches her a single mastery of three: stay and build the portal (Sentinel Protocol), go home to Glimmerspire and Poots (Stormgunner), or give the year to mote research (Aether Channeler). The mastery is hers, learned into hand and mind, not an item on her belt, so her attunements stay free for the Pocket Dynamo and whatever the rifts yield. The Frostbite Shard retires to her belt, a keepsake and one day a gift.

Boomstick, Poots's Parting Work

"It doesn't jam. It doesn't misfire. It simply states its opinion, loudly."

Whichever road Lilly walks, a parcel finds her, wrapped in waxed paper and string, postmarked Glimmerspire. Boomstick becomes her spellcasting focus and her designated Arcane Firearm (an artificer designates only one). With her shield in the other hand, her hands are exactly full: pistol, shield, and nothing wasted. Its clockwork drum conjures its own rounds, so Lilly will never want for ammunition again.

Boomstick

Weapon (Repeating Pistol), Very Rare

Repeating Pistol, +2. You gain a +2 bonus to attack rolls and damage rolls made with this magic weapon, which deals 1d10 Thunder damage on a hit. The weapon requires no ammunition and never needs reloading.

Spell Focus and Arcane Firearm. While holding Boomstick, you can use it as a Spellcasting Focus for your Artificer spells, and it is your designated Arcane Firearm. When you cast an Artificer spell through Boomstick, you can add 1d8 to one of the spell's damage rolls; the extra damage is Thunder damage.

Forged by the masters of Glimmerstone.

Stormgunner (the Glimmerspire Road)

"Gearhaven runs on lightning. So does she, now."

Poots's brightest student, and the bottled lightning of Glimmerspire.

On this road Lilly goes home to Glimmerspire, and the masters open the deep workshops for Poots's brightest student. What she brings back is not a device but a way of shooting: Boomstick becomes an extension of her own hand, stormcharged.

Stormgunner

Path Feat (chosen in the year apart; requires Boomstick)

War-Trained. You have Advantage on Constitution saving throws you make to maintain Concentration, and you can perform the Somatic components of your Artificer spells even when you have Boomstick or a Shield in one or both hands.

Storm-Arc. When you hit a creature with Boomstick, that creature takes an extra 1d6 Lightning damage, and the lightning arcs from it to up to two other creatures of your choice within 15 feet of it. Each arced creature makes a Dexterity saving throw against your spell save DC, taking 2d6 Lightning damage on a failed save or half as much damage on a successful one.

Counter-Bolt (twice per Long Rest). When a creature you can see within 60 feet of you makes an attack roll against one of your allies, you can take a Reaction to fire Boomstick into the attack. The triggering attack roll has Disadvantage, and you make one attack with Boomstick against the attacker; on a hit, the target takes an extra 1d10 Lightning damage.

Overloaded Shot (twice per Long Rest). When you hit a creature with Boomstick, you can overload the shot to deal an extra 1d10 Lightning damage; the target must succeed on a Constitution saving throw against your spell save DC or have the Stunned condition until the end of your next turn.

A way of shooting learned in the workshops of Glimmerstone.

Aether Channeler (the Mote-Research Road)

"It was never a keepsake. It was a key, and it is finally awake."

Lilly gives the year to the Sphere, and the Sphere gives it back. It has spent the whole journey quietly pulling loose motes from the air; now she learns to spend what it has gathered. It begins with Aether Ward alone, and as the party clears each elemental rift and installs its pure Mote, the Sphere learns that plane's mighty discharge: five distinct answers on a strict budget, each the size of a spell she has no slot to cast, two of them burning for a full minute while her hands stay free for the cannon.

Aether Channeler

Path Feat (chosen in the year apart)

Mote Channeling. You awaken the Essence Sphere you carry. Its powers share a pool of 2 uses, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Short Rest. You start with the Aether Ward power, and you gain one Elemental Discharge each time a rift's Mote is installed in the Sphere (Ignis, Unda, Aer, Terra, Umbra). If a power requires a saving throw, the DC equals your spell save DC.

Aether Ward. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to release the gathered motes as a protective shell: you and each ally within 30 feet of you gain Temporary Hit Points equal to 2d8 plus your Intelligence modifier.

Lingering Discharges. A discharge that lasts 1 minute is sustained by the Sphere and doesn't require Concentration. The Sphere sustains only one lingering discharge at a time; activating another ends the first, and you can end one early (no action required).

Fire / Ignis, Cinderstorm. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to unleash a firestorm in a 40-foot-radius Sphere centered on a point within 120 feet of yourself. Each creature there makes a Dexterity saving throw, taking 8d6 Fire damage on a failed save or half as much on a success. Until the start of your next turn the area is Difficult Terrain, and a creature that enters it for the first time on a turn or starts its turn there takes 2d6 Fire damage.

Water / Unda, the Drowning Lull. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to fill a 20-foot-radius Sphere within 120 feet with the shimmer of deep water. Each creature there must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw or have the Incapacitated condition and a Speed of 0 for 1 minute, standing entranced. It ends early for a creature that takes damage or is shaken awake by an ally's action within 5 feet.

Air / Aer, Tailwind. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to send a following wind about your allies. For 1 minute, you and any number of allies within 30 feet of you gain a +2 bonus to attack rolls and saving throws, and your Speeds increase by 10 feet.

Earth / Terra, Tectonic Slam. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to erupt the ground in a 20-foot-radius Sphere within 120 feet. Each creature there must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw or take 7d8 Force damage and have the Prone condition. Until the start of your next turn the raised stone is Difficult Terrain, a creature takes 5 Piercing damage for every 5 feet it moves there, and you and your allies have Half Cover while in the area.

Shadow / Umbra, Soul Siphon. As a Magic action, expend 1 use to target one creature within 60 feet. It makes a Constitution saving throw, taking 8d6 Necrotic damage on a failed save or half as much on a success. You, or an ally within 30 feet of you, regains Hit Points equal to half the Necrotic damage dealt.

Sentinel Protocol (the Portal Road)

"An upgraded Eldritch Cannon, rebuilt at the bench into a faithful guardian."

On this road Lilly stays in Gearhaven and builds beside Vane, and her Eldritch Cannon grows up. It walks on its own, blasts or shields on her command, and never makes her choose just one mode again.

The Sentinel

Medium Construct (your Eldritch Cannon, rebuilt; granted by the Sentinel Protocol feat)

Armor Class 18

Hit Points 5 + five times your Artificer level (40 at Level 7); it has a number of d8 Hit Dice equal to your Artificer level

Speed 30 ft.

STR 14 (+2) DEX 10 (+0) CON 16 (+3) INT 4 (-3) WIS 12 (+1) CHA 6 (-2)

Damage Immunities Poison

Condition Immunities Charmed, Exhaustion, Poisoned

Senses Darkvision 60 ft., Passive Perception 11

Languages understands the languages you know

Rebuilt Cannon. The Sentinel is your Eldritch Cannon in a new form: when you would create your Eldritch Cannon, you can create the Sentinel instead. Anything that improves your cannon still applies to it, the Pocket Dynamo included, so you deploy or recall the Sentinel as a Bonus Action for no spell slot, it has no maximum duration, and its Force Blast and Electric Pulse gain the Dynamo's +2 damage. Casting Mending on the Sentinel restores 2d6 Hit Points; if it drops to 0 Hit Points, you can rebuild it by expending a level 1+ spell slot.

Bound Construct. Add your Proficiency Bonus to any ability check or saving throw the Sentinel makes.

Actions

Activate. As a Bonus Action, you can activate the Sentinel; it moves up to 30 feet and takes one of the following actions of your choice.

Force Blast. Ranged Attack Roll: your spell attack modifier, range 120 ft. Hit: 2d8 + your Intelligence modifier Force damage (+2 from the Pocket Dynamo while attuned).

Electric Pulse. Dexterity Saving Throw: your spell save DC, each creature of your choice within 15 feet of the Sentinel. Failure: 2d8 + your Intelligence modifier Lightning damage (+2 from the Pocket Dynamo while attuned), and the target can't take Reactions until the start of your next turn. Success: Half damage.

Reactions

Guardian Protocol (1/Round). Trigger: An ally within 15 feet of the Sentinel takes damage. Response: The ally gains 1d8 + your Intelligence modifier Temporary Hit Points.

Why this is an upgrade. The old cannon made Lilly choose a mode; the Sentinel walks on its own 30 feet, then blasts or pulses on her Bonus Action (her pick every time), and shields her friends as a Reaction in the same round. Her old kit lives on inside it: the Force Ballista became the Force Blast, the Storm mode became the Electric Pulse, and the Protector stands watch as Guardian Protocol. The Flamethrower was traded for lightning, Gearhaven's own element. Rebuilt at the bench in Gearhaven, from the masters' own designs.

Marks & Mysteries

Ursa's Mark of Handling. A dragonmark that woke when he was six: it prickles near frightened animals, grants Speak with Animals and Animal Friendship, and has become the channel through which sleeping and possessed things speak to him (Pikachu, the Grand Custodian). It has never once stirred for a machine.

The seven-point star. Elaria's sigil, wrapped in a leafed vine (or cupped in wings, on the Sash), found on every gift along the Guardians' path. When you see it, she saw you coming.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Warden's Price

Elaria spent her power the way a candle spends itself: all at once, on purpose, so others could see. When Maldrith was sealed beyond the last wall, the Warden had nothing left but her name and her sign, the seven-pointed star wrapped in a leafed vine. She scattered what remained into small safeguards and lay down to sleep, trusting the kind to find them. So far, the old tellings say, her trust has held.

◆ LORE OF ELARIA ◆ The Warden's Watch

Ask the Circle what Elaria is warden OF, and the old druids only point: at the turning planes, at the anchor-stars strung between them like a lantern-line, at the small safe things of the world that have no other reason to be safe. The tellings do not agree on why she sleeps. Some say the sealing emptied her to the last drop. Some say the sleep is itself the seal, and that waking her would open a door best left shut. The very oldest telling says she is not asleep at all, only listening, on a scale too slow and too deep for waking folk to follow. On one point every telling closes ranks: the stars her enemy puts out, her gifts relight. A staff kindles. A sash carries. A small bright core remembers. And somewhere beneath the turning of all seven planes, something that loves the world very much is dreaming it safe passage.

"She is not gone," the first druids wrote. "She is holding. When you carry her sign, hold with her."

Elaria, the sleeping goddess who lit the way.

Part IV: The Guardians' Character Sheets

The three Guardians at the close of the Gearhaven chapter, level 5, on their own table-ready sheets. Each hero's full sheet follows on its own pages: Lilly Glimmergear, then Stabby Sharpblade, then Ursa Catchum.

These are the living sheets the players hold at the table, in full character-sheet layout, kept current as the party levels up. The party's companion Ghostbloom has her card in Part I, the Bestiary.
