ATTACKS & SPELLCASTING

Darkvision. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light.

Unarmored Defense. While you are wearing no armor and not wielding a shield, your AC equals 17.

Martial Arts. Your unarmed strike does 1d6+5 damage. You can use Strength or Dexterity for these attacks. When you use the Attack action with an unarmed strike or a monk weapon on your turn, you can make one unarmed strike as a bonus action. For example, if you take the Attack action and attack with a quarterstaff, you can also make an unarmed strike as a bonus action, assuming you haven't already taken a bonus action this turn.

Monks Focus. You have 4 Focus Points and your Focus DC is 12

Flurry of Blows (Bonus Action—Focus). You can expend 1 Focus Point to make two Unarmed Strikes as a Bonus Action.

Patient Defense (Bonus Action—Focus). You can take the Disengage action as a Bonus Action. Alternatively, you can expend 1 Focus Point to take both the Disengage and the Dodge actions as a Bonus Action.

Step of the Wind (Bonus Action—Focus). You can take the Dash action as a Bonus Action. Alternatively, you can expend 1 Focus Point to take both the Disengage and Dash actions as a Bonus Action, and your jump distance is doubled for the turn.

Unarmored Movement. Your speed increases by 10 feet while you are not wearing armor or wielding a shield.

Uncanny Metabolism (1/Long Rest). When you roll Initiative, you can regain all expended Focus Points. When you do so, roll your Martial Arts die, and regain a number of Hit Points equal to your Monk level plus the number rolled.

Way of the Kensei. Channels ki through a set of mastered weapons

Deflect Attack (Reaction). When an attack roll hits you and its damage includes Bludgeoning, Piercing, or Slashing damage, you can take a Reaction to reduce the attack's total damage against you. When you do so, the damage you take from the attack is reduced by 1d10+9. If you reduce the damage to 0, you can expend 1 Focus Point to redirect some of the attack's force. If you do so, choose a creature you can see within 5 feet of yourself if the attack was a melee attack or a creature you can see within 60 feet of yourself that isn't behind Total Cover if the attack was a ranged attack. That creature must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw or take damage equal to two rolls of your Martial Arts die plus your Dexterity modifier. The damage is the same type dealt by the attack.

Slow Fall (Reaction). Reduce any falling damage you take by 20.

Path of the Kensei. Your kensei weapons are monk weapons.
Kensei Weapon (Longsword).
Kensei Weapon (Longbow).

Agile Parry (Kensei Weapon). If you make an unarmed strike as part of the Attack action on your turn, you can use a melee kensei weapon to defend yourself. You gain a +2 bonus to AC until the start of your next turn, while the weapon is in your hand and you aren't incapacitated.

Kensei's Shot (Bonus Action—Kensei Weapon). Until the end of the current turn, any target you hit with a ranged attack using a kensei weapon takes an extra 1d4 damage of the weapons type.

NAME

Bloodfang Clan

SYMBOL

ALLIES & ORGANIZATIONS

Chaotic and Mischievous: Stabby thrives on disorder and chaos, always seeking excitement and mischief. He loves getting into trouble and stirring things up, often acting on impulse without considering the consequences. His wild nature makes him unpredictable in most situations.

PERSONALITY TRAITS

Freedom: Stabby believes that everyone should live life on their own terms, free from restrictions or oppressive rules. He despises authority and thrives in situations where he can do whatever he wants without consequences. "No one tells me what to do."
IDEAL

Lilly Glimmergear and Taurus Catchum: Despite his wild and unpredictable nature, Stabby feels a deep loyalty to Lilly and Taurus. They are the first friends he's ever had who accepted him for who he is, and he would do anything to protect them. "They're my crew—no one messes with them but me."

BOND

Recklessly Impulsive: Stabby often acts before thinking, jumping into dangerous situations without considering the consequences. His love for excitement can lead to unnecessary risks, putting both himself and his friends in danger. "Who needs a plan when you've got guts?"
FLAW

Survivor of the Wilds:

Survivor of the Wilds: Stabby can find food, shelter, and basic necessities in even the most dangerous or desolate areas, relying on his goblin instincts and years of living in Bloodthorn Hollow. He's adept at scrounging for supplies, creating makeshift shelters, and spotting natural dangers before they strike.

TRINKET

Stabby Sharpblade's Backstory (The Wild Goblin Monk)

Stabby Sharpblade was born into the chaotic Bloodfang Clan, a goblin tribe notorious for its fierce survivalist ways, deep within the twisted region of Bloodthorn Hollow. From an early age, Stabby stood out—not for his strength, but for his speed, cunning, and love of chaos. In a clan where might ruled, Stabby quickly learned how to outmaneuver bigger and stronger goblins, relying on his agility and unpredictability to survive.

Stabby earned his surname, Sharpblade, after winning a duel against a group of rival goblins using only a broken sword. His clan respected his fighting prowess, but Stabby's curiosity and craving for adventure set him apart from his kin. While the Bloodfang Clan thrived on raids and conflict, Stabby sought something more exciting, something that didn't involve the same old goblin squabbles.

During one of his wanderings, Stabby encountered Master Kaelon Windstep, a monk of the Whispering Breeze Clan. The monk's calm demeanor and graceful combat intrigued Stabby. He spent a brief time learning from Kaelon, picking up key lessons about balance, patience, and speed. Although Stabby never fully embraced the disciplined ways of the monks, he added their techniques to his own chaotic style, blending grace with his wild and unpredictable fighting.

Once his training ended, Stabby left Bloodthorn Hollow to seek bigger adventures. His travels eventually led him to Lilly Glimmergear and Ursa Catchum, two adventurers with talk of magical creatures, enchanted potatoes, and dangerous quests. With his love for chaos and thrill-seeking nature, Stabby eagerly joined their party, excited by the prospects of new adventures and the promise of causing more mischief.

Though unpredictable and sometimes difficult to read, Stabby is fiercely loyal to Lilly and Ursa, considering them his closest allies in this strange world. Now, as he journeys with them, Stabby looks for every opportunity to hone his chaotic fighting skills and embrace whatever wild adventures come their way.

BACKGROUND STORY

Whispering Breeze Influence

Graceful Chaos: Stabby's brief training with Master Kaelon Windstep added agility and balance to his already wild combat style, blending chaos with grace.

Quick Reflexes: Stabby's heightened agility allows him to react quickly, dodging attacks and moving fluidly in combat.

Darkvision

Vision

Many creatures in the worlds of D&D, especially those that dwell underground, have darkvision. Within a specified range, a creature with darkvision can see in darkness as if the darkness were dim light, so areas of darkness are only lightly obscured as far as that creature is concerned. However, the creature can't discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.

Martial Arts

Class Feature

At 1st level, your practice of martial arts gives you mastery of combat styles that use unarmed strikes and monk weapons, which are shortswords and any simple melee weapons that don't have the two-handed or heavy property.

You gain the following benefits while you are unarmed or wielding only monk weapons and you aren't wearing armor or wielding a shield:

- You can use Dexterity instead of Strength for the attack and damage rolls of your unarmed strikes and monk weapons.
- You can roll a d6 in place of the normal damage of your unarmed strike or monk weapon. This die changes as you gain monk levels, as shown in the Martial Arts column of the Monk table.
- When you use the Attack action with an unarmed strike or a monk weapon on your turn, you can make one unarmed strike as a bonus action. For example, if you take the Attack action and attack with a quarterstaff, you can also make an unarmed strike as a bonus action, assuming you haven't already taken a bonus action this turn.

Certain monasteries use specialized forms of the monk weapons. For example, you might use a club that is two lengths of wood connected by a short chain (called a nunchaku) or a sickle with a shorter, straighter blade (called a kama). Whatever name you use for a monk

Monks Focus

Class Feature

Your focus and martial training allow you to harness a well of extraordinary energy within yourself. This energy is represented by Focus Points. Your Monk level determines the number of points you have, as shown in the Focus Points column of the Monk Features table.

You can expend these points to enhance or fuel certain Monk features. You start knowing three such features: Flurry of Blows, Patient Defense, and Step of the Wind, each of which is detailed below.

When you expend a Focus Point, it is unavailable until you finish a Short or Long Rest, at the end of which you regain all your expended points.

Some features that use Focus Points require your target to make a saving throw to resist the feature's effects. The saving throw DC is calculated as follows:

Focus save DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Wisdom modifier

FLURRY OF BLOWS

You can expend 1 Focus Point to make two Unarmed Strikes as a Bonus Action.

PATIENT DEFENSE

You can take the Disengage action as a Bonus Action.

Alternatively, you can expend 1 Focus Point to take both the Disengage and the Dodge actions as a Bonus Action.

Way of the Kensei

Archetype

Monks of the Way of the Kensei train relentlessly with their weapons, to the point where the weapon becomes an extension of the body. Founded on a mastery of sword fighting, the tradition has expanded to include many different weapons.

A kensei sees a weapon in much the same way a calligrapher or painter regards a pen or brush. Whatever the weapon, the kensei views it as a tool used to express the beauty and precision of the martial arts. That such mastery makes a kensei a peerless warrior is but a side effect of intense devotion, practice, and study.

Deflect Attack

Class Feature

When an attack roll hits you and its damage includes Bludgeoning, Piercing, or Slashing damage, you can take a Reaction to reduce the attack's total damage against you. The reduction equals 1d10 plus your Dexterity modifier and Monk level.

If you reduce the damage to 0, you can expend 1 Focus Point to redirect some of the attack's force. If you do so, choose a creature you can see within 5 feet of yourself if the attack was a melee attack or a creature you can see within 60 feet of yourself that isn't behind Total Cover if the attack was a ranged attack. That creature must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw or take damage equal to two rolls of your Martial Arts die plus your Dexterity modifier. The damage is the same type dealt by the attack.

Slow Fall

Path of the Kensei

Archetype Feature

When you choose this tradition at 3rd level, your special martial arts training leads you to master the use of certain weapons. This path also includes instruction in the deft strokes of calligraphy or painting. You gain the following benefits.

Kensei Weapons. Choose two types of weapons to be your kensei weapons: one melee weapon and one ranged weapon. Each of these weapons can be any simple or martial weapon that lacks the heavy and special properties. The longbow is also a valid choice. You gain proficiency with these weapons if you don't already have it. Weapons of the chosen types are monk weapons for you. Many of this tradition's features work only with your kensei weapons. When you reach 6th, 11th, and 17th level in this class, you can choose another type of weapon—either melee or ranged—to be a kensei weapon for you following the criteria above.

Agile Parry. If you make an unarmed strike as part of the Attack action on your turn and are holding a kensei weapon, you can use it to defend yourself if it is a melee weapon. You gain a +2 bonus to AC until the start of your next turn, while the weapon is in your hand and you aren't incapacitated.

Kensei's Shot. You can use a bonus action on your turn to make your ranged attacks with a kensei weapon more deadly. When you do so, any target you hit with a ranged attack using a kensei weapon takes an extra 1d4 damage of the weapons type. You retain this benefit until the end of the current turn.

Way of the Brush. You gain proficiency with your choice of calligrapher's supplies or painter's supplies.
