Fury of the Small (1/Short Rest). When you damage a creature with an attack or a spell and the creature's size is larger than yours, you can cause the attack or spell to deal 3 extra damage to the creature.

Nimble Escape. You can take the Disengage or Hide action as a bonus action on each of your turns.

RACIAL TRAITS

Darkvision. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light.

Unarmored Defense. While you are wearing no armor and not wielding a shield, your AC equals 17.

Martial Arts. Your unarmed strike does 1d4+5 damage. You can use Strength or Dexterity for these attacks. When you use the Attack action with an unarmed strike or a monk weapon on your turn, you can make one unarmed strike as a bonus action. For example, if you take the Attack action and attack with a quarterstaff, you can also make an unarmed strike as a bonus action, assuming you haven't already taken a bonus action this turn.

Ki. You have 3 Ki Points and your Ki DC is 12

Flurry of Blows (Bonus Action—Ki). Immediately after you take the Attack action on your turn, you can spend 1 ki point to make two unarmed strikes.

Patient Defense (Bonus Action—Ki). You can spend 1 ki point to take the Dodge action on your turn.

Step of the Wind (Bonus Action—Ki). You can spend 1 ki point to take the Disengage or Dash action on your turn, and your jump distance is doubled for the turn.

Unarmored Movement. Your speed increases by 10 feet while you are not wearing armor or wielding a shield.

Way of the Kensei. Channels ki through a set of mastered weapons

Deflect Missiles (Reaction). You can deflect or catch the missile when you are hit by a ranged weapon attack. When you do so, the damage you take from the attack is reduced by 1d10+8. If you reduce the damage to 0, you can catch the missile if it is small enough for you to hold in one hand and you have at least one hand free. If you catch a missile in this way, you can spend 1 ki point to make a ranged attack with the weapon or piece of ammunition you just caught, as part of the same reaction. You make this attack with proficiency, regardless of your weapon proficiencies, and the missile counts as a monk weapon for the attack.

Path of the Kensei. Your kensei weapons are monk weapons.

Kensei Weapon (Longsword).
Kensei Weapon (Longbow).

Agile Parry (Kensei Weapon). If you make an unarmed strike as part of the Attack action on your turn, you can use a melee kensei weapon to defend yourself. You gain a +2 bonus to AC until the start of your next turn, while the weapon is in your hand and you aren't incapacitated.

Kensei's Shot (Bonus Action—Kensei Weapon). Until the end of the current turn, any target you hit with a ranged attack using a kensei weapon takes an extra 1d4 damage of the weapons type.

NAME

SYMBOL

Chaotic and Mischievous: Stabby thrives on disorder and chaos, always seeking excitement and mischief. He loves getting into trouble and stirring things up, often acting on impulse without considering the consequences. His wild nature makes him unpredictable in most situations.

PERSONALITY TRAITS

Freedom: Stabby believes that everyone should live life on their own terms, free from restrictions or oppressive rules. He despises authority and thrives in situations where he can do whatever he wants without consequences. "No one tells me what to do."

IDEAL

Lilly Glimmergear and Taurus Catchum: Despite his wild and unpredictable nature, Stabby feels a deep loyalty to Lilly and Taurus. They are the first friends he's ever had who accepted him for who he is, and he would do anything to protect them. "They're my crew—no one messes with them but me."

BOND

Recklessly Impulsive: Stabby often acts before thinking, jumping into dangerous situations without considering the consequences. His love for excitement can lead to unnecessary risks, putting both himself and his friends in danger. "Who needs a plan when you've got guts?"

FLAW

Survivor of the Wilds: Stabby can find food, shelter, and basic necessities in even the most dangerous or desolate areas, relying on his goblin instincts and years of living in Bloodthorn Hollow. He's adept at scrounging for supplies, creating makeshift shelters, and spotting natural dangers before they strike.

DAMAGE

Many creatures in the worlds of D&D, especially those that dwell underground, have darkvision. Within a specified range, a creature with darkvision can see in darkness as if the darkness were dim light, so areas of darkness are only lightly obscured as far as that creature is concerned. However, the creature can't discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.

When you damage a creature with an attack or a spell and the creature's size is larger than yours, you can cause the attack or spell to deal extra damage to the creature. The extra damage equals your level. Once you use this trait, you can't use it again until you finish a short or long rest.

You can take the Disengage or Hide action as a bonus action on each of your turns.

Beginning at 1st level, while you are wearing no armor and not wielding a shield, your AC equals 10 + your Dexterity modifier + your Wisdom modifier.

At 1st level, your practice of martial arts gives you mastery of combat styles that use unarmed strikes and monk weapons, which are shortswords and any simple melee weapons that don't have the two-handed or heavy property.

You gain the following benefits while you are unarmed or wielding only monk weapons and you aren't wearing armor or wielding a shield:

- You can use Dexterity instead of Strength for the attack and damage rolls of your unarmed strikes and monk weapons.
- You can roll a d4 in place of the normal damage of your unarmed strike or monk weapon. This die changes as you gain monk levels, as shown in the Martial Arts column of the Monk table.
- When you use the Attack action with an unarmed strike or a monk weapon on your turn, you can make one unarmed strike as a bonus action. For example, if you take the Attack action and attack with a quarterstaff, you can also make an unarmed strike as a bonus action, assuming you haven't already taken a bonus action this turn.

Certain monasteries use specialized forms of the monk weapons. For example, you might use a club that is two lengths of wood connected by a short chain (called a nunchaku) or a sickle with a shorter, straighter blade (called a kama). Whatever name you use for a monk

Starting at 2nd level, your training allows you to harness the mystic energy of ki. Your access to this energy is represented by a number of ki points. Your monk level determines the number of points you have, as shown in the Ki Points column of the Monk table.

You can spend these points to fuel various ki features. You start knowing three such features: Flurry of Blows, Patient Defense, and Step of the Wind. You learn more ki features as you gain levels in this class.

When you spend a ki point, it is unavailable until you finish a short or long rest, at the end of which you draw all of your expended ki back into yourself. You must spend at least 30 minutes of the rest meditating to regain your ki points.

Some of your ki features require your target to make a saving throw to resist the feature's effects. The saving throw DC is calculated as follows:

Ki save DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Wisdom modifier

FLURRY OF BLOWS

Immediately after you take the Attack action on your turn, you can spend 1 ki point to make two unarmed strikes as a bonus action.

PATIENT DEFENSE

You can spend 1 ki point to take the Dodge action as a bonus action on your turn.

STEP OF THE WIND

You can spend 1 ki point to take the Disengage or Dash action as a bonus action on your turn, and your jump

Immediately after you take the Attack action on your turn, you can spend 1 ki point to make two unarmed strikes as a bonus action.

You can spend 1 ki point to take the Dodge action as a bonus action on your turn.

You can spend 1 ki point to take the Disengage or Dash action as a bonus action on your turn, and your jump distance is doubled for the turn.

Starting at 2nd level, your speed increases by 10 feet while you are not wearing armor or wielding a shield. This bonus increases when you reach certain monk levels, as shown in the Monk table.

At 9th level, you gain the ability to move along vertical surfaces and across liquids on your turn without falling during the move.

Monks of the Way of the Kensei train relentlessly with their weapons, to the point where the weapon becomes an extension of the body. Founded on a mastery of sword fighting, the tradition has expanded to include many different weapons.

A kensei sees a weapon in much the same way a calligrapher or painter regards a pen or brush. Whatever the weapon, the kensei views it as a tool used to express the beauty and precision of the martial arts. That such mastery makes a kensei a peerless warrior is but a side effect of intense devotion, practice, and study.

Starting at 3rd level, you can use your reaction to deflect or catch the missile when you are hit by a ranged weapon attack. When you do so, the damage you take from the attack is reduced by 1d10 + your Dexterity modifier + your monk level.

If you reduce the damage to 0, you can catch the missile if it is small enough for you to hold in one hand and you have at least one hand free. If you catch a missile in this way, you can spend 1 ki point to make a ranged attack with the weapon or piece of ammunition you just caught, as part of the same reaction. You make this attack with proficiency, regardless of your weapon proficiencies, and the missile counts as a monk weapon for the attack.

When you choose this tradition at 3rd level, your special martial arts training leads you to master the use of certain weapons. This path also includes instruction in the deft strokes of calligraphy or painting. You gain the following benefits.

Kensei Weapons. Choose two types of weapons to be your kensei weapons: one melee weapon and one ranged weapon. Each of these weapons can be any simple or martial weapon that lacks the heavy and special properties. The longbow is also a valid choice. You gain proficiency with these weapons if you don't already have it. Weapons of the chosen types are monk weapons for you. Many of this tradition's features work only with your kensei weapons. When you reach 6th, 11th, and 17th level in this class, you can choose another type of weapon—either melee or ranged—to be a kensei weapon for you following the criteria above.

Agile Parry. If you make an unarmed strike as part of the Attack action on your turn and are holding a kensei weapon, you can use it to defend yourself if it is a melee weapon. You gain a +2 bonus to AC until the start of your next turn, while the weapon is in your hand and you aren't incapacitated.

Kensei's Shot. You can use a bonus action on your turn to make your ranged attacks with a kensei weapon more deadly. When you do so, any target you hit with a ranged attack using a kensei weapon takes an extra 1d4 damage of the weapons type. You retain this benefit until the end of the current turn.

Way of the Brush. You gain proficiency with your choice of calligrapher's supplies or painter's supplies.

You gain proficiency with this weapon if you don't already have it, and it is a monk weapon for you.

You gain proficiency with this weapon if you don't already have it, and it is a monk weapon for you.

If you make an unarmed strike as part of the Attack action on your turn and are holding a kensei weapon, you can use it to defend yourself if it is a melee weapon. You gain a +2 bonus to AC until the start of your next turn, while the weapon is in your hand and you aren't incapacitated.

You can use a bonus action on your turn to make your ranged attacks with a kensei weapon more deadly. When you do so, any target you hit with a ranged attack using a kensei weapon takes an extra 1d4 damage of the weapons type. You retain this benefit until the end of the current turn.
